8 a.m...78 | 12 m...81 | 2 p.m....85 | 8 p.m....85

Probably fair and possible a little cooler to-day, is the way the man who presides over the weather put it last night. This looks very much like a case of hedge, and it is still advisable to wear shirtwaists. Take your umbrellas along to-day. Rain has fallen in five states, and the mean last night had a watery look, but suffering Kansas the corn has been cooled by a thunderstorm, and the temperature has fallen to 76. The warmest place east of the Mississippi river yesterday was Parkersburg, and the coldest was Buffalo. Heavy rains in Cincinnati and Nashville cooled the atmosphere in both places.

Although there was plenty of air yesterday the mercury hovered around the 90 mark. At 8 o'clock last night the mercury registered 83, but before midnight the old figures had fallen away. The highest was 87 and the lowest 75.

QUEEN DOWAGER MADE A TARGET

MARIA PIA FLEES TO ROME AFTER THE FOUL ATTEMPT

An American Woman Society Writer Gives the Police a Clue to the Assailant of the Consort of the Late King of Portugal—A Grandmother and Lovable, Though High-Tempered—Italian Tenor Banished on Her Account.

By Special Cable to the Commercial Gazette.

AIX LES BAINS, FRANCE, July 30.—Queen Dowager Maria Pia, of Portugal, narrowly escaped assassination to-day at the hands of an unknown man. Her majesty, who was taking a course of baths at this famous health resort, was fired at with a revolver, but the would-be assassin missed his mark. She was so seriously shocked by the attempt on her life that she left immediately for Rome. The police are making every endeavor to discover the criminal.

Mrs. Sherwood, the American society writer, was the queen's next neighbor in the baths. She has given the detectives a clue on which they are working.

The news of the attempt on the queen dowager rapidly spread through the community of 15,000 visitors here and caused great excitement. The fact that the attempt had failed was the occasion of sincere satisfaction. Queen Maria Pia is known personally to many people here. She has mingled freely with her acquaintances at the baths. Her sweet disposition and democratic manner have evoked the affection of all with whom she has come in contact.

GEN. MILLER BROUGHT GEN. GOBIN TO BOOK

TACIT THREAT OF COURT-MARTIAL FORCES A COURTESY.

Junior Officer Didn't Tender a Review to His Superior Until His Attention Was Called to the Omission By a Curt Note From the Major General—Latter Satisfied, But Declined the Proffer and Left Camp.

(Special to the Commercial Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 30.—Facts which have become known since the breaking up of Camp Magee at Mt. Gretna last Saturday shed light upon the recent controversy between Maj. Gen. Miller and Brig. Gen. Gobin. Secrecy no longer surrounds the contents of the message which was sent up the hill from division headquarters to Gobin's tent on the rainy Friday of Gen. Miller's departure from camp. It is shown that instead of tendering a review of his own volition to Gen. Miller, Gen. Gobin did so only under pressure and with a fear of the consequences of his refusal.

The message was the first of the official documents to pass between Miller and Gobin at the encampment and was issued from division headquarters after Miller had been in camp for 36 hours, practically without receiving any official intimation that Gobin was aware of his presence. Only a few hours intervened before the time Miller had set for his departure, and the customary proffer of a review to the major general had not been made, and from all indications would not be made. Gobin had announced that he was acting in accordance with section 420 of the military regulation, which simply provides that a visiting commander will make the first official call unless he is senior in rank to the resident commander, in which case he may send a card, and it then devolves upon the junior in rank to make the first call.

This was the status of affairs when the first message was sent to Gobin. It was a very brief document and "respectfully" called the brigadier general's attention to the fact that section 418 of the military regulation provides that he should tender a review unless otherwise directed. This was practically a threat that unless Gobin tendered the review he would be court-martialed for neglect of duty, and after an hour's study of the case, the brigadier general decided to act with discretion. Down the hill to division headquarters went an orderly with a message indorsed on the back of the original document that Gen. Gobin "would be pleased" to tender a review to the major general at 4:30 that afternoon.

In due course of time the third and last document of the series was issued. It informed Gen. Gobin that Gen. Miller "appreciated the honor," but would have to decline a review, and wound up with the announcement that Gen. Miller would leave camp at 2:30 p. m. Gobin received the reply shortly after 2 o'clock, and promptly retired to his tent for a nap, while Gen. Miller, all the necessary courtesies having been complied with, departed from Camp Magee.

WHEELMAN'S LAST BATH.

Body in Cayuga Lake, Into Which He Had Probably Plunged to Cool Himself.

ITHACA, N. Y., July 30.—(Special.)—Another student has been added to the list of those who have found graves at the bottom of Cayuga lake in recent years. The waves are in possession of the body of Percy Proctor, despite the searches of a large party of his friends. The fact that he was drowned did not reach his friends till this morning, when a workman discovered his suit of clothes and other wearing apparel on the water's edge at Goodwin's point.

Proctor started out on a wheel Saturday evening, his destination being unknown by his friends. He was the son of Proctor, the Cincinnati soap manufacture. He entered the agricultural college two years ago to prepare himself to take charge of a large tract of land in West Virginia owned by his father. He probably became overheated while riding his wheel and sought relief in a bath in the lake. His wheel was found at a cottage near the spot where his clothes were discovered.

HISTORIAN MACLAY MAY BE REDUCED TO MANUAL LABOR

Navy Yard Officials Who Gave Him Clerical Work Charged With Violating the Law--The Naval Author Also Accused of Plagiarism.

(Special to the Commercial Gazette.)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Edgar Stanton Maclay, whose history of [illegible] battle of Santiago [illegible] Admiral Schley to call [illegible] court of inquiry, has fallen under the [illegible] of the National Civil Service Reform [illegible] and a charge of plagiarism [illegible] against the naval [illegible] Brooklyn newspapers [illegible] high officer of the civil [illegible] that the league would [illegible] action against Maclay [illegible] as a laborer in the [illegible] yard and as a result [illegible] to perform the manual [illegible] paid $2.24 a day [illegible] tories and doing [illegible] is alleged he has been [illegible] to do other than manual labor has violated the civil service law.

Almost identical paragraphs from Maclay's history and an article in the Edinburgh Review of April, 1846, in reference to the capture of the American ship Frolic by the British during the war of 1812, have led to the charge of plagiarism against Mr. Maclay. The passage is used as a footnote in the second volume of Maclay's book. It is said that Mr. Maclay has practically reprinted an extract from the Edinburgh Review without giving credit to the anonymous author.

I don't say that I won't take these boys back sooner or later, but at present it looks as though they had been very foolish at the expense of the company, and they must be punished."

Henderson, the young president of the local lodge, left for Pittsburgh this morning to consult with President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association as to the best method of procedure at the hearing to-morrow. An attorney has been retained and a fight is expected. It is understood that the defendants will appeal for protection to the Amalgamated association, claiming that they have the right under their charter to camp and enjoy privileges at any time.

The camp register is still causing great uneasiness here and it developed to-day that the names of a number of young women are to be found on it.

Manager Donner this afternoon took me through the mill. There is no question that every department has as many men as it can handle and work is being turned out by the ton.

FIGURES ARE AT FAULT.

Reading Company Imports More Men, but Strikers Insist They Are Not Full-Fledged Mechanics.

READING, PA., July 30.—The Reading company brought 20 more non-union mechanics here last night, and to-day the officials claim an improvement in the boilermaking and blacksmithing departments, which had been badly crippled. They report that 28 blacksmiths' fires are going and that 30 men are at work in the boilermaking shop.

The strike leaders dispute these figures, and say the men are not full-fledged mechanics. The officials likewise claim an improvement in the situation in other departments, and that the places of the striking freight handlers have all been filled. At the car shops they say more men are at work than at any previous time.

A STRIKE THAT FAILED.

Gold Miners Wanted An Increase From $10 to $15 a Day.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—Charles Mayne of this city is the first man to organize a labor union and inaugurate a strike for higher wages in the Klondike. This he did in an attempt to raise the wages of the men working in the Alaska gold mines. Fred C. Mayne, a wholesale pop dealer of this city, has just received a letter from his brother in the Klondike, telling of this experience.

The mine workers had been receiving $10 per day. They organized and struck for $15. The lockout lasted nearly three weeks, when it ended in the defeat of the strikers. The strikers ran out of money and were forced to give up their struggle for higher wages.

ACTORS ON A STRIKE.

"Lovers' Lane" Company Demand a Vacation and Get a Promise.

CHICAGO, July 30.—The "Lovers Lane Company" at McVicker's theater went on strike to-night, giving as a reason the cutting short of their vacation time. The company came here three months ago to play an engagement of six weeks. This has been lengthened from week to week because of the popularity of the play until the outlook to-night was that the company would have no rest before beginning a new season.

The actors and actresses came to the theater, but refused to dress for the play. While the audience waited Manager E. Price held a conference on the stage with the irate strikers. An understanding was finally reached that the company should have a week's vacation before the end of August.

Pool Causes a Strike.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 30.—(Special.)—All the carbuilders in the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad shops, about 100, have gone on strike. The trouble is due to a pool arrangement whereby all the employes' earnings were lumped and divided equally, thus allowing an inexperienced workman the same as the most skilled.

...ATCHMAN SAVES TRAIN.

...e Struggle With Wreckers He Breaks Away and Gives Timely Warning.

...AWKERTON, IND., July 30.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to wreck the Baltimore & Ohio express train from Chicago to Baltimore last night. Two masked men were discovered obstructing the track near Tesgarden, three and a half miles east of here, by Thomas Kronk, a track watchman. Before he had time to realize what was being done one of the men knocked him down the embankment. Kronk soon recovered and after a hard struggle with the desperadoes he got away from them, hurried back toward Walkerton and signaled the rapidly approaching train in time to save it.

The men wound a large wire cable around the rail and through a knot they put large iron fishplates. It is reported that a man suspected of being one of the desperadoes has been captured.

Injunction Removed and a Cleveland Traction Road at Once Is Made to Suffer.

CLEVELAND, O., July 30.—Late this afternoon Judge Scrimpie dissolved the temporary injunction against the city board of equalization forbidding it to increase the tax assessment against the Cleveland Electric Railway Company. A few minutes later the board of equalization increased the tax rate against that company almost $8,000,000.

The attorneys for the street car company will carry to the circuit court the question of the right of the board of equalization to increase the assessments against the road.

PEACE TO HINGE ON WELLSVILLE

The Determination Said to Be to Run the Plant Non-Union Hereafter.

ISSUE WILL BE FOUGHT IN CONFERENCE.

Mill Management Trying to Compass the Arrest of Strikers--Two More Turns Working Than Last Saturday, but Are Short Handed.

BY WILL R. M'CORD,
Staff Correspondent.

WELLSVILLE, O., July 30.—The Wellsville plant may figure to a greater extent than has been imagined in the present negotiations for a settlement between the Amalgamated association and the United States Steel Corporation. For two days persons close to the management of the mill here and to Manager Percifer F. Smith of this district have been asserting that the Wellsville mill would never run except as a non-union plant. The word came from Percifer F. Smith. It was brought here by a Wellsville man, who has seen Mr. Smith in Pittsburgh since the present talk of a settlement became public. The understanding is that the settlement will either leave the Wellsville plant non-union or Mr. Smith will sever his connection with the operating department of the American Sheet Steel Company.

The story has been freely circulated in Pittsburgh since the last conference arranged by President Warner Arms of the American Tin Plate Company, that Manager Smith was not allowed in that conference, Manager Warner of the Western district being substituted as the sheet steel company's representative. This story Smith's confidants here claim they can deny in detail. President Arms, they say, invited Mr. Smith into the former conference and Smith declined. The issue as to whether the plant is to be considered a union or a non-union mill, under the proposition made to-day will have to be fought out in conference.

To-night it was said the mill management was attempting to secure the names of the persons who hooted at the non-union men on the streets and at the mill yesterday, and that arrests would follow. The local leaders still deny the strikers were the offending parties, but they say if arrests are made the cases will be fought bitterly. To-day some of the local strike leaders created a diversion by an attempt to offer the imported non-union men inducements to leave the mill and seek work elsewhere. They were unsuccessful. They met some of the non-union men, but the men declined to negotiate.

The leaders learned something about the mill, however. There were seven turns working to-day, two more than last Saturday, though two turns were working short, quitting early in the afternoon. Manager Brookman claimed at noon to have two more crews in the mill to-day than Saturday, a total of 14 men.

Committees from Steubenville or East Liverpool now ride into town on every train, inspecting the passengers. To-night the strikers put three of their men upon the evening train east to guard three suspicious looking passengers who were ticketed to Wellsville, but who decided to ride on through to Pittsburgh when they saw the crowd at the station. One stranger captured by the operative potters' committee at East Liverpool at noon to-day was brought to Wellsville and sent away to Pittsburgh.

NEW DEAL DEMANDED.

Judge Krebs Head of a Movement to Oust the Present Philadelphia Democratic Organization.

PHILADELPHIA., July 30.—Ex-Judge David L. Krebs of Clearfield, who was in the city to-day, contends that the transfer of the chairmanship of the Philadelphia Democratic city committee from Charles P. Donnelly to ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison has not reduced the hostility of the country Democrats to the local organization. He says he has received many letters from party men throughout the state who argue that conditions have not been changed by the change in leadership, and that they insist that the Philadelphia delegation elected last winter by the Donnelly-Ryan faction shall be repudiated by the state convention of August 15.

The full text of an appeal to the state convention demanding a radical change in the composition of the Philadelphia organization, was made public here to-night. The movement was started by Judge Krebs several weeks ago.

The appeal is addressed to the "delegates of the Democratic party in state convention assembled." It refers at length to the condition of the Democratic organization in Philadelphia for the past several years, alleges that important aid was given to Republican leaders in the legislature by certain Democratic leaders, and calls for the "purification and reorganization of the party."

The document is said to have the signatures of several hundred Democrats of the state.

LISTING NEW BOTTLES.

Bottle Blowers and Manufacturers Making Progress at Atlantic City Conference.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 30.—Prescription bottles of new design which have come into the trade during the past year occupied the attention to-day of the wage committees of the National Green Glass Bottle Manufacturers' association and the Green Glass Bottle Blowers' union in conference here. There was a lively discussion over the prices to be paid for these bottles, both sides endeavoring to secure the advantage in the rate. In every case, however, the schedule was arranged to the satisfaction of both sides.

The listing of these new bottles has been completed with a few exceptions and the next business in order is the arrangement of rules and regulations to govern the trade for the ensuing year. This matter was briefly discussed at the afternoon session, but nothing of importance was transacted. The manufacturers' committee, acting under instructions from the conventions, will make an effort to reduce the blowers' wages 10 per cent. As the blowers will demand a 10 per cent increase a spirited discussion of the question is expected by both sides.

D. A. Hayes, president of the Glass Blowers' union, is ill at his hotel, having been bitten by a poisonous insect.

POPULISTS TO PEOPLE.

Address Issued by the Chairman to Ohio Voters—Mayor Sam Jones May Be Nominated.

COLUMBUS, O., July 30.—Joe A. Parker of Louisville, chairman of the national committee of the middle-of-the-road Populists, late to-night gave out an address to the people, in which the present campaign between Democrats and Republicans in Ohio is denounced as "a sham battle, a greedy scramble for place and power, regardless of the welfare of the people."

An appeal is made "to all true citizens who believe in the true principles of government, the elevation of the man above the dollar, to unite in the organization of independent leagues to the end that all true reform elements may be speedily united into one grand protest against legislative injustice and machine politics."

A convention of Ohio free silver men will be held here to-morrow. If its candidates and platform are satisfactory to the Populists it is believed the latter will make no separate nominations. It has been suggested that all opposed to both the Democratic and Republican state tickets unite on Mayor Samuel M. Jones of Toledo for governor.

BROKEN RAIL WRECKS HOMESEEKERS' TRAIN

ONE MAN WAS KILLED AND 24 WERE INJURED.

Three Cars Overturned and Frightened Passengers Were Taken Out Through the Windows--Farmer Boy's Attempt to Warn Engineer Unsuccessful--Drawing of Homesteads Still Continues at El Reno.

KREMLIN, O. T., July 30.—The northbound Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific passenger train, which left El Reno at 7 a. m., three hours late, crowded with departing homeseekers, was wrecked this afternoon while going at full speed, two miles south of here. C. L. McLain of Enid, O. T., was killed and 24 other passengers received cuts and bruises. It is believed none but McLain was fatally hurt.

A broken rail in a culvert washed out by heavy rains threw the baggage car from the track. This car, the smoker and one passenger coach were overturned, resting on their sides. The passenger cars and the Pullman stayed on the track, but did not overturn. The train was torn up for 200 feet. Beside the overturned cars were the debris of the upper windows.

C. L. McLain, who was killed, was sitting on the car step of the smoker, at the time of the accident. He was thrown under a car truck and his body not taken out for two hours.

A stock train had passed the point just ahead of the passenger, and a farmer boy saw the broken rail and wreckage. He tried to warn the passenger engineer, but was too late.

EL RENO, O. T., July 30.—The settlement drawing for lands on the Kiowa and Comanche reservations was continued to-day. At 8:30 a. m. the boxes commenced to roll and a score of lucky writers recorded the names of their homesteaders, about 5000 of whom toed the platform. Steadily the crowd increased until fully three noon and women seeking homes in the new country, had gathered to hear the announcement of the drawing. A rope was stretched across the booth completely separating the government employes from the reporters, and the representatives of each paper were given positions in order according to their desire and convenience in facilitating their work.

There were many more women noticeable among the crowds than on the first day of the drawing. At 1:30 p. m., after an adjournment for lunch, the boxes were again started in motion. Interest increased as the drawing progressed, and the crowds were larger than at any time before. There were 1,350 numbers drawn out of the boxes to-day from each district, making a total drawn of 4,050.

HOT FIGHT IN CENTRE LED BY D. H. HASTINGS

Ex-Governor Attacks the State Administration and Advocates Another Revolt.

BELLEFONTE, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—For two solid hours to-day the Republicans of Center county in convention here fought and struggled for supremacy and the indorsement of the state administration and various officeholders with the result that the anti-Quayites won. The Quayites were led in the fight by Secretary Hamilton, E. R. Chambers, who also holds an office under the administration, and W. E. Gray, while former Gov. Hastings was the sole spokesman for the anti-Quayites. The convention was a pitched battle from start to finish.

The climax came when Gov. Hastings, chairman of the committee on resolutions, read his report. While the national administration was indorsed not a word was said about the state. Secretary Hamilton presented a minority report indorsing not only the state administration, but also John K. Thompson's career in the legislature. Then Hastings made a speech and after calling upon the convention to put down Hamilton's resolutions because of so much pernicious legislation, he would up with an attack on Representative Thompson, in which he attacked the representative's public and private character. Mr. Hastings said in part:

If you pass them you indorse the cut of a million dollars in the school funds; you indorse the infamous Thompson-Baldwin bill; you indorse the franchise steal; you indorse the raid in appropriations to indecent, insane and the four million-dollar capitol appropriation.

As a private citizen I must raise my voice in behalf of the great industrial people of Pennsylvania, against the unfortunate and suicidal tendencies which have recently prevailed against its good name and its unparalleled achievements. The principles of legislation, the work of these self-constituted rulers, have been fraught with baleful results. Last fall, when Pennsylvania gave the second majority to William McKinley, the people of the state were innocently turning the grindstone to sharpen the knives which were to carve the fundamental laws of the state to atoms and to rip into shreds long established and constitutional rights; to destroy home rule, self government, and to sell out the people to the great party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley.

You have seen men, elected to represent the people and their best interests, basely sell their birthright for the mess of pottage secretly paid them by those who represent the sages and prophets and the leaders of the Republicanism. You have seen county and judges and judicial patronage, the result of master and other federal officeholders' zeal to the support of the control power by promises or threats. In my judgment there is but one remedy for these wrongs, for the great body of Republicans in Pennsylvania to exert their might and turn the political rulers out of business. Would this be revolution? Nay, it would be the greatest exhibition of patriotism ever witnessed in Pennsylvania. Liberty was driven from Gettysburg. Let not the spirit of loyalty to President McKinley and his administration deter any. Has not one of the most distinguished members of his cabinet voluntarily joined the ranks of Republican hosts in Philadelphia? What he has done we may safely do.

Only Hamilton and Chambers voted for the Hamilton resolution.

Col. William P. Snyder was re-elected county chairman; William M. Allison and John M. Dale, state delegates, and Edward C. McKinley was nominated for prothonotary.

GLENN JURY DISAGREES

Seven Favor Conviction and Five Are for Acquittal of the Defendant.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., July 30.—(Special.)—Except for conviction, five for acquittal, was the way the Ellis Glenn jury stood when it reported at noon here last Saturday. It reported late afternoon its utter inability to agree upon a verdict, and was discharged by the court from further service.

For a considerable time it looked as though the question of the proof of forgery entered into the result and prevented a conflict of conviction. The prisoner was released on bond and will give a new bond to appear at the next term.

The case so far has cost the state thousands of dollars. The entire case hinged upon the identification of Ellis Glenn as the same as Bert Glenn, formerly of Williamstown, W. Va. Over 100 witnesses were examined and the best criminal lawyers in the state were arrayed against each other. While Ellis Glenn appeared in court attired as a woman, the prosecution sought to identify her as Bert Glenn, a man.

The decision of the jury had little impression upon the prisoner. She merely smiled when the result was announced.

CLARK MAY BE IN FREEPORT

Son of the Missing Oakville Man Has Gone to Investigate.

A MYSTERIOUS MIDNIGHT VISITOR

Appeared to Be Interested in the Suspicions of the Family—Belief Growing That Persons in the Neighborhood Know Clark's Fate.

BY WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

LATROBE, PA., July 30.—Mrs. James D. Clark has received a letter from a woman in Freeport telling her a man was there who might be her missing husband. One of the sons went to the Allegheny valley town, but he has not been heard from. He said that he would telegraph at once if he located his father.

The Freeport letter was written by Mrs. Matthews. She said that a couple of days ago a Mr. Clark secured board at a neighbor's, and she thought it might be the Oakville merchant. A description was asked for, but the mail is too slow for Mrs. Clark and she sent her son. The wife does not expect that Mr. Clark is in Freeport. She has little hope of ever seeing him alive.

It was an off day in the man hunt. There were a few men tramping over the ridge, but their search was fruitless. Constable Harry Fry, who has devoted the last ten days to the hunt, says that he has been unable to find one clue to assist him in untangling the mystery. To-night he said that he had no plans for the future, and did not see what could be done now until fresh information is received.

Located the Hungarian Suspect.

He will look into the case of the Hungarian who has too much money. This man was in Youngstown to-day, but he did not exhibit any money. His name is now known and the company he works for will be asked to tell how much he has received in wages in the past ten days.

There were some developments to-day that tend to bear out the murder theory. Mrs. Moore, who lives next door to the Clarks, tells this story:

"About midnight last Wednesday I was awakened by something very much like a groan. Looking out of the window and over toward Clarks, I saw a man standing at the window of the Clark house. He appeared to be listening to what was being said inside. I called for my husband, and the man hearing me, dashed down through our yard and disappeared in the darkness behind the Clark stable. The fellow was tall and wore a white shirt.

"I knew that Mrs. Clark was very nervous and I thought it would be best to tell her nothing of what I had seen. While talking with her this afternoon I told her the story."

Interested in Their Suspicions.

On the night Mrs. Moore saw the man, Mrs. Clark and some friends were in the house looking over her husband's papers that had that day been found in the rear of the glass works. They were discussing the disappearance of Mr. Clark and speaking freely of their suspicions. Mrs. Clark thinks that the man who was at her window had something to do with the mysterious taking off of her husband, and he was endeavoring to learn what the family knew.

The Clarks and their close friends have suspected right along that certain people know a great deal about the disappearance of Clark, but they have been very careful not to give names until they are sure of their ground. Mrs. Clark says that a number of people have been hanging around in the vicinity of her home trying to pick up anything they could from the family in the way of information.

Abner Smith, who is a close friend of the Clarks and one of the men who has been assisting in hunting the missing man, admitted this afternoon that some clues had been gotten that might lead to a solving of the mystery.

Evidence Is Being Investigated.

He said all this information was being turned over to the proper persons and the evidence was being investigated. He declined to give the names of the "proper" persons.

Supt. Phillips of the glass works has had a thorough search made of all the gas tanks and tunnels under his plant. He is satisfied that the body of Clark was not concealed there, but says such things could have been done. The rear end of the works run to the backwaters of Loyalhanna creek and at this point the factory grounds are not enclosed. The papers belonging to Clark were found in a big thicket adjoining the plant. There is a field there containing ten or twenty acres entirely covered with blackberry bushes and stunted trees. There is a natural hedge about the enclosure, and it would be impossible for any one on the outside to see what is going on within.

SCHAMBERG & CO. SELL OUT.

Foreign Exchange and Steamship Agency is Bought by First National Bank.

The old and well-known foreign exchange and steamship agency of Max Schamberg & Co. has been bought out by the First National bank of Pittsburgh, which will establish a foreign banking department on a large scale.

Max Schamberg is the oldest foreign exchange and steamship business in this city. It was established by Consul Max Schamberg 35 years ago, who in 1887 retired from the firm, and now lives in Berlin, Germany. The business passed into the hands of Isaac E. Hirsch, who had entered Mr. Schamberg's employ in 1870 as an office boy, and whose energy in large measure built up the business to its later proportions.

Mr. Hirsch will devote himself to other interests, among them the German newspaper business, being one of the principal stockholders in the recently organized Neeb-Hirsch Publishing Company, which consolidated the Volksblatt and Freiheits Freund.

The transfer will take place at the close of business to-day and Max Schamberg & Co. will hereafter be known as the foreign department of the First National bank. Until the alterations in the bank building at Fifth avenue and Wood street are finished, the foreign department will continue at 527 Smithfield street.

William E. Benkiser, for many years the confidential clerk of the firm of Max Schamber & Co., has been appointed manager of the foreign department.

LAKE BUSINESS TO BE BOOMED

Promoters of a New Transatlantic Steamship Line Are Sanguine as to Results—Expect to Secure Sufficient High-Class Freight to Make It a Paying One from Start.

By Special Cable.

LONDON, July 30.—James McNaugh, vice president of the Great Northern railway of Canada, who is arranging to establish a line of steamships between Quebec and Manchester in connection with the Canada Atlantic railroad, went to Manchester to-morrow to consummate the deal. Speaking to the Commercial Gazette correspondent to-night, Mr. McNaugh said:

"The extension of this service will materially benefit American lake business by increasing the volume of grain coming from Iowa and Kansas through Chicago. The six Leyland line boats are running at full capacity, and the Manchester line is certain to obtain full freights."

Mr. McNaugh says that if the difficulties in the way of obtaining high-class freight at remunerative rates can be overcome the enterprise is bound to succeed. He also says that if the Canadian government would replace the buoys that mark the channel in the St. Lawrence river by fixed lighthouses, the chances of disaster would be greatly lessened.

The Hon. A. G. Blair, Canadian minister of railways and canals, who is at present in London, said: "I am greatly interested in the Chicago project. I believe that it has a bright future. I am also satisfied, after discussions with interested parties, that paying freight can be obtained. The St. Lawrence route has been persistently damned for accidents absolutely unconnected with it. A steamship runs ashore on the Irish coast—if it is coming from or going to Quebec or Montreal—there is immediately an outcery about the perils of the Canadian route.

"The recent losses of steamers were entirely due to the carelessness of their navigators. The two insurance companies of Montreal reported to have given over taking river risks have just as much warrant to quit Atlantic business. The Canadian government is anxious by every means to safeguard this navigation, and recently invited suggestions from owners and captains of vessels. Not a single reply was received. The only inference that can be drawn from the silence of the navigators is that every possible precaution has already been taken."

SPAIN'S YOUNG KING IN AN AUTOMOBILE

Almost Causes a Panic When He Sweeps Through Palace Grounds.

By Special Cable.

SAN SEBASTIAN, July 30.—King Alfonso XIII. enjoyed his first automobile ride this afternoon. Accompanied by his mother, the queen regent, and the duchess of Alba, the young sovereign suddenly swept through the grounds of the palace.

The sentinels, not recognizing their king, thought some desperate plot was in operation. In a perfect panic they sounded the alarm. The palace guard turned out, followed by all the members of the royal household in a tumult.

Order was not restored until the king personally appeared and assured the frightened domestics and soldiers that anarchy had not broken loose.

LYNCHING CALLED FOR.

Exciting Meeting of Shareholders of a Mining Company, at Which Ropes Were Wanted.

LONDON, July 30.—(Special Cable.)—The official receiver of the Standard Exploration Company, one of the mining concerns known as the "Whittaker Wright group," to-day made such astounding revelations that he drew from the excited shareholders in their meeting demands for the lynching of persons implicated.

The receiver said that the estimated assets were farcical. The 14 mines, valued at £767,000, had earned nothing. The company started with a cash capital of £500,000, but the directors took little interest in the company's mines and devoted themselves to stock exchange speculation. "And that's where your money is gone," said the receiver. "Two hundred and twenty-eight thousand pounds was lost in differences, in Lake Erie speculations, and £255,000 was lost in differences in Caledonian Copper. The total profits from speculations are £38,000, and the losses are £868,000."

After a few more such statements, which, a shareholder said, would "stagger humanity," another shareholder asked the receiver to prevent the directors from making away with their property, as it was reported they were doing.

"Are these men still at large?" shouted another shareholder.

"Yes, they are," came the answer, and immediately those present at the meeting rose to their feet, somebody shouting "Lynch him!" It was an exciting moment for Lord Pelham-Clinton, Gen. Goughe-Calthorp and others, who were attending the meeting. A storm of angry cries and hisses broke out, but the receiver finally succeeded in calming the shareholders by promising them every protection possible.

VILJOEN IS VANQUISHED.

Lord Kitchener Reports the Capture of a Gun and Many Men from the Famous Commandant.

LONDON, July 30.—(Special Cable.)—The following dispatch was received to-day from Lord Kitchener:

"Gen. F. W. Kitchener, after a long chase of Ben Viljoen's commando, caught up with it. A sharp fight ensued. We captured a pompom and 22 wagons and took 32 prisoners. The British had five wounded."

DURBAN, NATAL, July 30.—Details received here of what at first seemed an ordinary skirmish between a British column and a Boer commando near Nquta, July 28, show that a hard all-day fight occurred, in which the British narrowly escaped the loss of a gun of the Sixty-seventh field battery. Four hundred Boers repeatedly rushed the British position, killing Maj. Edwards and Gunner Carpenter. The gun was limbered up and taken at a gallop for three miles under heavy fire. Five British were killed.

LONDON, July 31.—How Boers in the field get news is explained by dispatches to the Daily Mail from Lorenzo Marquez and Amsterdam, from which it appears that the Boers maintain a regular service of dispatch riders. Cables are received and filed at Lorenzo Marquez.

A Universal Match Combine.

LONDON, July 31.—A universal match combine is contemplated, according to the Daily Mail, by Ernest Gould and Mr. Barber, chairman of the Diamond Match Company, who are largely buying up the stock of the Swedish Match Company.

MAKING A FIGHT FOR BIG TYPE

English Advertisers Want to Use American Methods, but Old-Fashioned Newspapers Stand in the Way—Merchants Organize a Protective Association to Do Battle.

By Special Cable.

LONDON, July 30.—The advertising methods are to be the battle ground of a struggle between progressive merchants and the conservative newspapers. The former want to adopt the American methods of plays, the glaring posters and display in columns to attract attention. Even on breaking [illegible] ers have [illegible] vertisers' [illegible] carolling [illegible] Ernest S. [illegible] Review, [illegible] correspondence [illegible]

"There are many [illegible] long standing who have been compelled to quit business because the newspapers have prevented their advertising effectively. Thousands of us concede that the fertile American mind has produced the cleverest advertising conceits known, and we should be glad to adopt them did not popularity and stagnation, misnamed conservatism, block the way. The retail merchants intend to break this deadlock and do the big dailies if it incurs a summons."

Representatives of prominent American advertisers inform the Commercial Gazette correspondent that they have the greatest difficulty in carrying out their ideas in the English press. They say they run afoul of the manners or restrictive rules which the proprietor refuses to forgo or change for no other reason than that they have never done so in the past.

O'SHEA IS SUSPENDED.

Well-Known Nationalist Is Accused of Disorderly Conduct by the House of Commons.

LONDON, July 30.—(Special Cable.)—The house of commons to-day suspended another member whose vote and voice it was anxious to suppress. The charge of disorderly conduct was made against James J. O'Shea, Kerry Nat., and he was suspended. He is said to have applied the term "judicial butcher system" to the conduct of Baron Fitzgerald, lord chief justice of Ireland, in charging the jury at the recent trial of Mr. Walsh, chairman of the Waterford county council, on charges of conspiracy at Cork.

Mr. Walsh is associated with the United Irish league, and the latter boycotted a man who rented a farm from which the previous tenant had been evicted. The charge of conspiracy arose therefrom.

The Nationalists contend that Baron O'Brien conducted the case in an extremely partisan way.

By a vote of 150 to [illegible] the house adopted a resolution authorizing the expenditure of £2,000,000 on the Pacific cable, Great Britain's share under the agreement with the colonies.

RETAINS THE TITLE.

Divorced Peeress Retains Her Ex-Husband's Name in Part, Even After Remarriage.

LONDON, July 30.—(Special Cable.)—A peeress after divorce and remarriage is entitled to retain her divorced husband's title, according to a decision rendered to-day in the house of lords.

The question was raised by Earl Cowley, who objected to the lady who divorced him continuing to call herself Countess Cowley, after she married again. The verdict of the lower court was in favor of the earl, but that of the appeal court favored the lady, and now the house of lords has upheld the latter's right to the name of Countess Cowley.

25,000 Men of City Front Federation Refuse to Go Back to Work.

FIGHTING FOR RIGHT TO ORGANIZE.

Many Warehouses Closed for Want of Men to Move Goods—All Efforts to Settle the Trouble Come to Naught—Fruit Being Wasted.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The labor trouble in this city reached a crisis to-day. Shipping, traffic and labor along shore are tied up at a standstill, and business is almost totally paralyzed.

An order for a general walkout of the City Front federation, which comprises 44 unions and organizations, with full membership of about 25,000, was issued this morning. Three thousand of these men are employed at sea or in other cities and the strike order does not apply to them until they return to San Francisco. Twelve thousand men obeyed the order to-day.

The City Front federation is composed of the following organizations: Sailors' Union of the Pacific, four local unions of longshoremen, marine firemen, brotherhood of teamsters, ship and steamboat joiners, porters, packers, warehousemen, ship clerks, pile drivers and bridge builders, hoisting engineers, steam and hot water fitters and coal teamsters.

When the order to walk out went into effect all the big shipping companies, with one exception, were left without a union man. By a special agreement, entered into some time ago between the Pacific Coast Steamship Company and the Firemen's union, firemen remained on the vessels of that company. Four coasting steamers, a ship and a schooner were the only vessels that went to sea.

It is claimed by the officers that the strike has been called to defend the principle of unionism, which the associated employers have announced their intention to crush out. Both sides seem determined to carry the fight on, and all efforts on the part of the mayor and others to bring about a conciliatory settlement have thus far proved unavailing.

It is reported, unauthoritatively, that several of the larger wholesale houses will close down until the strike is settled.

There is every prospect that many other unions will be drawn into the fight, in which case the business of the city will be completely tied up. The coal handlers may refuse to handle the fuel supply of the city, or the drivers of oil wagons to deliver oil to manufacturers who use that product for fuel. The coal supply of the city will last but two weeks with ordinary consumption, but with economy it may be made to last a few weeks longer. Should the coal and oil supply be cut off, the lighting companies will be compelled to close down and the city will be left in darkness after nightfall.

Several disturbances occurred to-day and the first really serious fight since the trouble commenced took place between a party of strikers and two colored drivers imported from the interior. One man was slightly hurt.

At Port Costa, where several hundred warehousemen have been on strike, a settlement was reached to-day, the warehouse owners agreeing to a nine-hour work day and to pay time and a half for all overtime.

The effects of the strike are being felt in the interior of the state and at fruit centers much of the fruit is being wasted. Other products are being placed in warehouses awaiting a settlement of the strike and restoration to normal labor conditions.

The transport service has not yet been seriously affected. But few of the firemen and sailors are union men.

An assortment of furniture that is pleasing to the eye—pleasing in other ways, too—prices are so popular—

TO COLUMBUS IN 222 MINUTES.

Panhandle Passenger Record Completely Smashed.

All time records on the Panhandle went to smash yesterday morning when Engineman Charles McCormick, with engine 113, drove train 7 from Pittsburgh to Columbus, 193 miles, in 222 minutes. This was the actual time between Pittsburgh and Columbus. In addition stops of three minutes at Steubenville, five minutes at Dennison and two minutes at Newark were made. A 10-mile slow order was obeyed at Dennison.

The fastest time of the remarkable run was made near Dennison, where the speed of the train approached 80 miles an hour. The whole run was made with all traffic of the road over two hours behind time. The train is scheduled to leave Pittsburgh at 4:50 a. m. and arrive at Columbus at 8:30, 280 minutes.

Owing to blockades the train did not leave until 7:45 a. m. and arrived at Columbus at 11:29, 222 minutes, or almost an hour less than schedule time. The regular crew was in charge, Engineering, Charles McCormick, Conductor L. W. Baker and Fireman Treanor. The previous record was made by the same crew last fall, when the run was made in three minutes more time.

NEW PHASE OF BLUE LAW FIGHT

The Police Have Apparently Wearied of Their Former Activity.

CHARALX WILL COST THE COUNTY $8.10

The Greek Had Money for His Fine and Costs, but Chose to Be the Guest of the County at the City's Expense.

The days of the blue law crusade of the police are numbered. No informations against persons for violating the laws last Sunday have been made and the agitation is likely to take another phase.

On the South Side Alderman Thomas Edgar of the Twenty-ninth ward will continue his campaign and to-day proceedings will be instituted before him against a number of big concerns that are alleged to have been passed over by the police.

In the Allegheny county jail Charles Charalx, who sold lemonade on Sunday to the thirsty crowds at Highland park, will languish for 30 days because he violated the obnoxious laws.

Charalx is the first jail victim of the blue law crusade. He had the money to pay his fine of $25 and $6 40 cost, but announced to the alderman that he would rather spend four weeks with Warden Peter K. Soffel. He is now in jail and will stay there until he counts four blue Sundays pass.

Charalx is somewhat of a philosopher. He declared this as one of his deductions: "I would rather let the county pay my board and room rent for 30 days than give up $31 40 of my hard-earned money to the city to encourage the persecution of other humble dealers like myself."

If 100 victims of the blue laws should choose to adopt the Greek's philosophy, the authorities would have a serious question to consider. The food for a jail prisoner costs four and three-quarter cents a day. When his light, heat, food, janitor service and other incidentals are counted he costs the county 27 cents a day. At the end of a 30-day sentence he runs up a bill of $8 10.

Jail Would Be Filled.

One hundred delinquent dealers would fill every cell in the jail and would require the county to pay $810 a month to provide for the closed doors in Pittsburgh bakeshops and lemonade stands on Sundays.

Alderman Edgar is not likely to stop within the bounds of his own ballwick and it is said he may begin a crusade downtown which will oblige the authorities to acknowledge his stand against what he terms is an inconsistent measure on the part of the police.

"This has been a most shameful campaign of persecution against the poor," declared Alderman Edgar, "and it is not surprising that a halt has been called. The people, however, do not intend to stop just yet. They are going to have the light turned on and a sensation may be sprung when the inside of things is illuminated. Informations have been made before me charging a number of concerns with the flagrant violations of the statutes of 1794. The list of defendants cannot be made public at this time for the reason that 72-hour limit from Sunday has not expired. Seventy-two hours, you know, is given in which to make informations against offenders. Tomorrow all complaints will be in and the proceedings will commence."

The alderman was seated in his private office busy transcribing the informations which will be made to-day. He was asked if the defendants would all be found exclusively in the Twenty-ninth ward.

People Are Behind Him.

"I am not ready to talk about that. The people are behind me and the people represent the right-thinking element in all parts of the city. I think they will not conclude to loot on the blue law crusade as a past incident until they see that justice has had an inning. Throughout this trouble there has been too much discrimination against the poorer classes. There is abundant room for reform in this city and a look around is all that is necessary to convince the most obtuse crusader that there are many abuses and vices to reform. It's not necessary to begin on widows and cripples who try to drive the wolf from the doors by offering a few cents worth of candy, cigars and lemonade for sale on Sunday. On the other side of the river evils exist in the very shadows of the city buildings."

Inspector Henry Whitehouse of the second police district, stated last night that no informations would be made against East End offenders as a result of the investigation last Sunday. No informations were made before Alderman Stephen J. Toole of Third avenue, before whom defendants in the downtown district have been called to appear, on account of death in the family of Inspector Robert Gray the hearings in the cases scheduled to be held yesterday afternoon before Alderman Toole have been postponed until Friday afternoon.

Alderman James Sherran of the Twenty-eighth ward spent yesterday afternoon in his Carson street office patiently waiting for informations to be made before him, but no officer appeared. Inspector William Hamilton stated that nothing would be done for the present.

CALLED BACK TO PORTO RICO

Juan Alonzo Will Start from Pittsburgh for His Mother's Bedside This Morning.

Juan Alonzo, a Porto Rican, who has been living in Pittsburgh for about a year, received word yesterday that his mother is dangerously sick at her home in Porto Rico. He will leave this morning for his old home, but says he belongs to Uncle Sam now and will come back as soon as his mother is out of danger.

Juan is 18 years old and has been in this country two years. He was employed around the camp of the Fourth Ohio regiment while they were in Porto Rico during the Spanish-American war. He was a bright youngster of 16 then and several of the officers took an interest in him.

When the regiment returned Juan came with them. He secured employment at a tailor shop in Columbus, O., and worked there for about a year. He then came to Pittsburgh and has been employed as assistant cook on the steamer Elizabeth.

He is strongly built, of medium height and quite dark. He talks English very well and says the United States is a much finer country than Porto Rico. Before coming to this country a sailor gave him a South American parrot. He brought the bird with him to this country and it is now his constant companion. It has an unpronounceable name and talks especially in its owner's two tongues. It is just beginning to talk English and mixes this with Spanish in a laughable manner.

NEW SHOES FOR OLD AT THIS PICNIC

Volunteers of America Gave Novel Outing to 400 Poor Children.

Four hundred poor children of Allegheny spent a happy day in Riverview park's cool green shade yesterday, at a picnic given to them and their mothers by the Allegheny post of the Volunteers of America.

Special cars took them to the park, where pyramids of sandwiches, barrels of lemonade and mountains of ice cream awaited them. Besides these traditional picnic accessories, this outing brought shoes for the barefooted, shirtwaists for the unshirtwaisted, and hats and caps for the hatless.

When the distribution of clothing had been completed in the afternoon, the crowd of urchins was as presentable as an ordinary Sunday school picnic crowd. The Volunteers, who had been collecting clothing and funds for clothing during the past three weeks, drove the queerest sort of bargains with the children and their mothers. In return for tattered trousers they gave brand new pantaloons of not of imported fabrics, to be sure, but good, stout, untearable material. For faded rags of caps and macerated straw hats they gave nice new headgear.

The little girls got aprons, stockings, or whatever article of apparel seemed to be most needed, and wan little faces were made joyous by the sight of pretty dolls, which were nursed in preference to running and romping over the hills.

The many swings did a rushing business and creaked out complaints of working overtime. Games were played of the old-fashioned sort, and contests of endurance and speed took place among boys and girls. Capt. Collins, commanding officer of the Allegheny post, acted as referee, track manager, starter and clerk of course, all combined. There was little disputing of his decisions.

Nobody went home hungry. Said Mrs. Collins: "We have distributed among them six hams, two big roasts of beef, 50 gallons of ice cream, many gallons of lemonade, hundreds of cakes and two large cases of candy. Mrs. Collins looked too tired to stand, but was happy in having helped to bring joy to so many youngsters to whom joy is almost an unknown quantity.

Capt. and Mrs. Collins were ably assisted in entertaining their guests by Major McFadden of the South Side post of Volunteers, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Anderson, soldiers in the Allegheny post, Mrs. Gibson of the East End, Pittsburgh, and Miss Cornelius of Ben Avon.

GLASS COMPANY STARTS.

Six Thousand Men Back to Work After Four Weeks' Shutdown.

The National Glass Company started 19 of its plants on Monday, after the usual shutdown of four weeks. These plants are located in Ohio, Virginia, Indiana, Maryland and Pennsylvania and employ 6,000 people. Their capacity is 375 pots. By a special agreement the company was allowed to start up on the last day of the vacation. The officials announce that the scale is practically settled, only a few advances having been made over last year's wages.

The company's new plant at Rochester, which will have a capacity of 36 pots and employ 1,400 men and boys, will be ready for operation November 15. A temporary building is being erected and one furnace will be started probably next week. The new factory will cover four acres and be two stories high. It is made of iron and brick with cement floors, making it strictly fire-proof. It will be the finest cut glass factory in the country.

The company is building another factory at Cambridge, O., for the manufacture of all kinds of glass, which will be the most complete plant in the world. It will cover three acres, will have three furnaces and will employ 1,000 people.

It is illustrated with cuts of the various departments in the main and branch libraries.

The report includes a good description of the Mt. Washington branch library and also gives a complete list of the celebration of the birthdays of the branch libraries.

The main library was yesterday presented with a directory of Cincinnati, O., in the year 1820. It is more of a history than a directory, and gives much space to the river facilities and boats plying the Ohio at that time.

WILL LAY MILES OF CITY WATER PIPES

LACK OF FUNDS HANDICAPS DIRECTOR BIGELOW.

The Original Appropriation Was Cut 65 Per Cent to Make a $5,000 Tax Levy Possible. Going $85,000 Instead of $100,000—Many Extensions Are Contemplated Notwithstanding, and Contracts to Be Let.

Despite the fact that the finance committee cut out 65 per cent of the money wanted for the extension of the city water service, Director Bigelow is endeavoring to extend the service in different parts of the city. There is no subject upon which the director gets so many inquiries as that of city water, and the funds which are at his disposal are wholly inadequate for the purpose. The contract for a lengthy extension will be awarded soon, and the work is to begin as soon as councils have authorized the work. Contracts are to be let by Director Bigelow for four miles of pipe.

When the estimates of the department of public works for the year beginning May 1 were sent to the finance committee, $100,000 was asked for water pipe extension to furnish city water in many parts where the people had no access to the pipe lines. When the ordinance was pruned to a 15-mill basis this was one of the items sacrificed, only $35,000 being allowed. It was a cut of 65 per cent, the heaviest made.

The Twenty-sixth street system will run from Twenty-sixth street to Sassafras street, and will contain over a quarter of a mile of pipe. The Armitage street system will run from Armitage to Shakespeare street, and will contain 1,970 feet of pipe. The Collier-Bayard street system will extend from Collier street to Bayard, and is more than a mile in length. The Craig-Greenfield avenue system runs from Craig street to Greenfield avenue, and is more than a mile in length. The Courtlandt-Parade street system is nearly a mile in length. The contracts will also include relaying about 2,000 feet of pipe along Wood street and Fourth avenue.

RATES FOR EXPO NOT YET FIXED

Show at Point Will Get Attention at Committee's Next Meeting.

FIREMEN ARE GRANTED SINGLE TRIP RATE

No Results from the Meeting to Settle the Basing Rate to Interior Pennsylvania Points from the Mahoning and Shenango Valleys.

The Pittsburgh passenger committee met yesterday at noon at the Duquesne for its regular monthly meeting. The principal question, that of rates for the Pittsburgh exposition next fall, was postponed until a later date, as the attendance was not as full as is desired to settle this matter. It was decided to have a special meeting to consider this subject some time early in August.

The usual rate of one fare for the round trip was authorized for the Western Pennsylvania firemens' gathering at Uniontown next month. This applies to uniformed firemen, members of the association. Equipment will be carried free.

Another meeting of importance to local railroads was held yesterday morning in this city. The present basing rate to interior points in Pennsylvania from the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, is unsatisfactory to certain of the lines. A long meeting of the interested roads was held yesterday, but nothing final was determined upon. Each of the representatives present will now take the matter up with the traffic head of his road, and a meeting to be held later will determine the final action. The roads represented yesterday were the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Pittsburgh & Western, Lake Shore, Erie, Nickel Plate, Wheeling & Lake Erie and Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling.

No Night Train on Ohio River R. R.

It is not considered likely at the general offices of the Pennsylvania lines west in this city that any change will be made in the passenger train connection of the Pennsylvania and the Ohio River railroad as the result of the recent acquisition of the Ohio River road by the Pennsylvania interests. The road was bought ostensibly by the Baltimore & Ohio after the Pennsylvania had bought that system. It was stated at the time that the new purchase would be operated by the Pennsylvania. At present the Ohio River line uses the Benwood terminals and the Wheeling station of the Pennsylvania and through cars leave this city for down the river points connecting with the river road at Wheeling. One more daily connection is also made.

Business men at Huntington and other southern West Virginia points have been desirous that a night train to this city be run, but it is stated here that such a train would not prove a paying investment.

More New York Wabash Rumors.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The Mail and Express says: "There have been several conferences during the last three weeks between representatives of the Pennsylvania and Gould interests which may result in some disposition of the New York Wabash line into Pittsburgh and possibly the establishment of a close working agreement between the several systems interested. In the opinion of well informed men this would not be built, it is assumed that under the arrangement the Missouri Pacific would have a suitable traffic arrangement for using the Pennsylvania system as an eastern outlet."

Good Chicago Grain Business.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Last week's grain traffic was satisfactory to all lines. The aggregate arrivals here by western lines were 4,635,000 bushels, a gain of 9,000 bushels over the previous week. The feature was the large movement of wheat, 2,230,000 bushels, the heaviest in more than four years, and more than three times last year's. There was a gain of 1,325,000 bushels over last year, also an increase of 755,000 bushels over 1899 and 75,000 bushels over 1898, but there was a loss as compared with 1900 of 1,472,000 bushels and from 1897 of 1,725,000 bushels.

President Ramsey in Town.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash system, was in Pittsburgh for an hour yesterday, passing through on his way to St. Louis headquarters. He came from Lakewood over the Allegheny Valley. The local officers of the Pittsburgh, Chicago, Western, the proposed Gould line to this city, were seized, and Mr. Ramsey expressed himself as much gratified with the progress being made in starting the work of building. He thinks all doubt is removed as to the franchise being obtained here for the new line.

Good Day for Passenger Business.

One of the largest gatherings of the year from the standpoint of local railroads will be held to-day at Cascade park, New Castle. It is the Lutheran Volkfest. The Pittsburgh & Western will run two special trains from the Allegheny station and will also have trains from Warren, O., and Butler. The Fort Wayne will run special trains from Canton and Massillon and Stoneboro. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie will handle the South Side traffic.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Baltimore & Ohio shops at Parkersburg are soon to be removed to Belore, O.

J. F. Sherwin, superintendent of passenger service of the Baltimore & Ohio, was in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Hereafter the Rio Grande-Western will be known as the "Great Salt Lake Route" instead of the "Scenic Line of the World."

S. W. Day, censor, and Thomas Cannon, line manager, of the telegraph department of the Baltimore & Ohio, with headquarters at Baltimore, were in town yesterday.

The Pittsburgh freight committee has decided to change the date of its meeting from Friday to Saturday for starting and will return Tuesday evening instead of Monday, as originally planned.

The Union Station Company at Louisville has made a clever arrangement for taking care of the uniforms of the Knights Templar who will attend the conclave there. It requests that 15 or 20 of the cases of uniformed companies be sent together and shipped under one check, so that they may be taken care of easily.

The passenger department of the Missouri-Kansas & Texas, puzzled to know why its supplies of folders at northern and east resorts were so quickly exhausted, found on investigation that collections of them were made by children, as each bore the pretty picture of "Katy," and these they cut out and added to their collection of paper dolls.

The Pacific Mail, the Occidental & Oriental and the Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamship companies have, it is stated, issued circulars offering commissions to railroad agents selling tickets over their lines. To nullify this general passenger agents whose roads are members of the Trans-Continental Association have been ordered to see that these circulars are not distributed to their ticket agents.

"FARMER" CREASY SAYS NO FUSION

Chairman of State Democratic Committee Visited Col. Guffey.

SAYS CONVENTION WILL LAST ONE DAY

Herman Yerkes to Be Nominated for the Supreme Court and John Rilling of Erie Probably for State Treasurer.

"Farmer" William T. Creasy, chairman of the state Democratic committee, spent two hours in Pittsburgh last evening arranging with Col. J. M. Guffey the details of the state Democratic convention to be held in Harrisburg on August 15. Chairman Creasy arrived in the city at 7 o'clock and left on the Pennsylvania fast line at 9 o'clock.

The Democratic state chairman made it clear that there will be no fusion this year of Democrats with insurgent Republicans. He said that no proposition to fuse had been presented to the Democratic managers, nor had any interviews or communications been held.

"What effect will the election of former Gov. Pattison as chairman of the Philadelphia organization have on the political situation?" was asked.

"Ex-Gov. Pattison's election will greatly strengthen the party throughout the state," Chairman Creasy replied.

"Will it make him the next Democratic candidate for governor?"

"I cannot say as to that. A hundred things may happen between now and next year to knock the whole scheme into a cocked hat."

Mr. Creasy said the coming Democratic state convention will last but a single day, that this would give ample time for any contests that may arise over nominations. The nomination of Herman Yerkes of Bucks county for judge of the supreme court is a foregone conclusion, and also that the candidate for state treasurer will be a Democrat.

John S. Rilling of Erie, formerly state chairman, is mentioned as a prospective candidate for state treasurer. Other candidates talked of for treasurer are Capt. William Hassen of Oil City, Robert L. Meyers, a member of the legislature from Cumberland county, and S. F. Kerr of Bedford.

NEW BONDS MAY BE LEGAL AFTER ALL

New Charter Not Held to Invalidate Allegheny's Issue of $1,098,000.

John C. Hetzel, city treasurer of Allegheny, declares that the recent bond sale of $1,098,000 for public improvements is not annuled by the new charter as claimed by the purchasing company which is seeking to have the sale set aside.

Mr. Hetzel said yesterday that Allegheny councils had passed the bond ordinance in January, that the bonds were voted by the people in February and were finally sold in March, before the new charter bill had passed the legislature and was signed by the governor. The bonds were not printed, however, and delivered until after the supreme court had passed on the constitutionality of the charter act.

Controller James Brown says he waited until the supreme court had given its decision because he was in doubt whether the word "recorder" or "mayor" should be printed on the bonds.

Finally, when the bonds were delivered, the syndicate refused to take them, because they were issued contrary to the provisions of the new charter, which stipulates that second-class cities may not issue bonds for so long a term and that a portion of the bonds must be redeemed annually. The bonds were issued for 20 years, paying 3½ per cent interest and were sold at a premium of $7 52.

Allegheny city officials say the purchasers of the bonds are dissatisfied because they bid so high, and that their present object is to have the bonds readvertised in the hope of getting them at a lower premium.

City Treasurer Hetzel and others, however, insist that the sale is not affected by the new charter. The time of delivery of the bonds is not considered important, as they had been legally awarded to the New York firm in competition with many other bidders.

Officials of Allegheny agree that the bonds will be less valuable if resold, as they will be short time bonds and cannot command as high premiums as 20-year bonds. The New York syndicate which purchased the bonds is said to be willing to pay $101 at a new sale.

It is estimated that there will be a loss of $20,000 in premiums to the city. A meeting of the city officials and members of the finance committee of councils was held in the recorder's office yesterday afternoon, but no decision was reached. Another meeting will be held this afternoon with representatives of the purchasing syndicate.

STRIKE AT UNION DEPOT.

Structural Iron Workers Quit Because Contractor Would Not Sign Scale.

The National Association of Bridge and Structural Iron workers yesterday morning precipitated a strike among the workmen employed by Contractor Andrew Brandt on the elevated tracks and trainshed at the new Union station. Brandt did not sign the scale, which caused the strike. According to the statement of the strikers 35 men quit work. George Young, foreman, says that only four men laid aside their tools, and that no serious trouble is anticipated.

Brandt brought a large force of men from Philadelphia. All were non-union, and yesterday morning the business agent of the association went to the men and asked them to join the union and quit work if their employer would refuse to sign the union scale. A number agreed and left the place.

Brandt immediately telegraphed to Philadelphia for new men. The strikers hope to win over the majority of those who will be imported and declare that they will work diligently to compel the contractor to hire union men. According to the statement of the strikers Brandt had paid his men from $2 25 to $2 75 a day for days of 10 hours. The union wages for the same class of work are said to be $3 00 for nine-hour days.

INJURED MAN HIS BROTHER.

Conductor of Allegheny Patrol Wagon Has a Sad Surprise on Emergency Call.

Cornelius Cullen of 63 Morgan street, Allegheny, was so severely injured in the Ft. Wayne yards, Allegheny, yesterday morning, that he died at the Allegheny General hospital an hour later.

When No. 3 patrol wagon was sent to the yards to take him to the hospital Michael Cullen, conductor on the wagon, was horrified to find as he was lifting the unconscious body that the injured man was his brother.

After placing the body in the patrol wagon, Walter Sinck, who was on the wagon with Michael Cullen at the time, asked him to get off the wagon, fearing the strain might be too great for him. Cullen assented and went to his home.

Cornelius Cullen was employed as a brakeman and fell from the train and had both legs cut off.

GREATER CRAFTON GROWING IN FAVOR

THE PETITION FROM IDLEWOOD PASSED SECOND READING.

Final Action Expected at a Regular Meeting of the Borough Council Next Tuesday—Court Ruling on the Ingram Protest Will Be Handed Down in September and Will Settle the Question.

"Greater Crafton" is more of a probability than ever. The annexation petition from Idlewood passed second reading at the meeting of Crafton council last night and is now in the hands of the committee on surveys and sewers. A report is expected Tuesday evening, when the regular meeting of council is held.

If no technical flaws in the ordinance are discovered, it will undoubtedly pass council next Tuesday evening, as sentiment is strongly in favor of the proposed union of Crafton, Ingram and Idlewood.

A majority of the citizens of Ingram last fall petitioned Crafton for admission to that borough, and council passed the enabling law last November. The disgruntled minority of Ingram citizens stepped in and filed objections to the proposed annexation. Some of these were withdrawn, but others could not be compromised and the matter was argued before the court of quarter sessions. A decision is expected at the opening of the September term. Crafton council hopes to bring the question of the annexation of Idlewood up and have it decided at the same court, in case any objections are filed, and have the fate of greater Crafton settled without delay.

The proposed union would increase the population of Crafton from its present count of 2,000 to about 4,000.

Last Saturday the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $25,000 for paving, sewering and the erection of a borough building, was submitted to the people of Crafton and decided in the affirmative. Last night council instructed the finance committee to advertise the sale of the bonds as authorized by the election. The money raised by the issue is to be expended as follows: For paving, $7,000; sewerage, $3,000; borough building, $8,000, and floating debt, $7,000. As in Crafton the "one-third" rule is observed in paving the streets, the borough paying one-third and the property holders on each side of the street one-third, the $7,000 appropriated by the town will mean $21,000 worth of paving actually to be done.

UNCLE SAM WANTS SOLDIERS

Local Recruiting Station Gets Order to Enlist Men for Work Behind the Guns.

More men are needed to fill the ranks of the United States army. This week a special order was received at the Penn avenue recruiting station from the war department asking for the enlistment of men for the heavy artillery service. In order to meet the demand Lieut. W. C. Valentine, commandant at the local station, will to-morrow establish branch offices at Johnstown and Kittanning. The office at Johnstown will be in charge of Walter Arlington and Mr. Johnson, while F. C. Conner will open the branch at Kittanning. Men enlisted for the artillery will be sent to Ft. Trumbull, New London, Conn.

The report of the work during July at the Penn avenue station has been completed by Sergeant Allison Ringer, and to-morrow will be forwarded to the war department at Washington. Thirty-three men were sworn into the service. This is the best monthly average since last winter and is an increase of 75 per cent over the enlistments in June.

RAPID WORK OF BUILDERS.

The Structural Steel Contractors on the New Exposition Broke the Record.

The structural steel work recently completed on the expostion building broke the record of time. The contract awarded to the Fort Pitt Bridge Company was signed April 2. On May 10 the first material was delivered ready for erection and by July 1 the structural steel work was completed. Over 2,000 tons of steel were used in the two buildings. The main hall is a three-hinged arch, making it very difficult of construction.

The same amount of work has never been completed in so short a time before, although the exposition work was done in the rush season when help was scarce. The nearest approach to this record was building the Kansas City convention hall the second time. The plans there, however, were all drawn when the contract was signed and the actual work could be begun at once.

NEW SHORTAGE IN POTATOES

Prices Have Jumped to $5 and $6 a Barrel in Pittsburgh.

SCARCITY GREATER THAN FOR YEARS

Weather Conditions of the Spring and Summer Are Held Responsible for the Present State of Affairs Locally.

The potato shortage which threatened Pittsburgh two weeks ago is on hand. Yesterday but six car loads of potatoes arrived in the city and there were only 15 cars on the tracks. The price to jobbers was $5 straight a barrel, three bushels and hucksters paid $5 50 and $6 00.

Two dollars a bushel for potatoes at a season of the year when they are supposed to literally roll out of the ground is a condition that has never confronted Pittsburgh before.

The trouble began two weeks ago when the visible supply suddenly vanished and the price went up to $3 50 a barrel. For a few days dealers could hardly satisfy their trade. Then the market loosened and the price dropped $1. Some long-headed commission men bought heavily in anticipation of a big raise, but even they became fearful at the slump and bought from each other to "brace" the market for the scarcity which they felt sure would appear in a short time. A week ago there were 120 cars of potatoes on the tracks in Pittsburgh and they were moving slow at $2 90 and $2 75. Then the shutoff came. Since last Thursday only 18 cars have arrived in the city and the price is firm at from $5 to $6 a barrel, with every prospect of going higher.

A wet, cold spring, which delayed planting, made the crop nearly a month late. Added to this the drought of the last two weeks in sections where the shipments were expected, has made the potatoes small and very susceptible to rot. In many sections the acreage is very small, while in others farmers are digging the tubers long before they are ripe, putting potatoes on the market that are badly sunburned and rough-skinned.

Henry J. McCracken, the oldest commission man in Pittsburgh, said yesterday: "I never saw anything like the condition of the potato market to-day and I have been handling potatoes here since 1852. It is astonishing. We simply cannot get them. Our buyer in New Jersey returned Saturday night because we could no longer pay the prices that New York dealers were offering. He has now gone to Louisville to see if there are any good potatoes there. The ones from there are small and gnarly and on account of the heat and drought sweat so in the cars that we lose at least 20 per cent by rotting. We are buying mostly from the Peninsula, from Cape Charles north, but the supply there is about done."

Frank Wilbert, another heavy buyer, said: "On July 17 last year we sold potatoes for 95 cents a barrel and a year ago to-day for $1 50. To-day the price is $6 to hucksters and may go to $7 within a week."

"I do not look for a drop in price for at least two weeks," said Albert M. Travis. "St. Louis and Louisville, which we look to to fill this gap, have no good potatoes and in the east the prices have gone out of our reach. One well-known New York firm which has the contract this year to supply the United States government with potatoes at $2 a barrel is paying Jersey farmers to-day $4 for every barrel. That means a loss of $2 on every barrel, but it is a case of must."

It is expected that the market will right itself within a few days, as it did two weeks ago. Potatoes "go to the price" like all other produce and Pittsburgh may soon be overloaded.

CAN'T GET A CONTRACTOR.

Builders Too Busy to Bid on McKeesport's School.

The McKeesport school board has adopted plans for a new 16-room brick school building in Atlantic avenue, West Side. It is to cost $40,000. The plans presented by W. F. Wilson of McKeesport were accepted.

Charles A. Miller, a member of the board, fears that the board will find it a difficult matter to secure a contractor at this season. He says all the contractors are contracted for until late in the fall. Up to date the secretary of the board has not received a single bid. The building is to be completed by January 1.

The Pennsylvania Railroad uses

WALKER'S SOAP

for car washing because it has NO ALKALI IN IT; because it's the only soap that will not destroy paints and varnishes. After trying many other soaps, the chemists of the Pennsylvania Railroad recommended the exclusive use of Walker's Soap, and every Pennsylvania Railroad car is washed with it—because its a harmless cleanser. Many housekeepers find paint and varnish washing off or losing its glossy surface. Blame the soap you use. Get Walker's Soap and be as wise as the Pennsylvania Railroad. Look for the game rooster on the wrapper and you will know you have the genuine.

OFFICIAL ALLEGHENY.

(No. 97.)

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and ordering the regrading and repaving of Grant avenue, First ward, from Ridge avenue to Rebecca street, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof.

Section 1. TWELVE PAGES

The Crowning Exploit.

The hot weather crusade which the police are waging against petty venders who supply the common people with ice, milk, lemonade, ice balls and ice cream on Sunday has accomplished a glorious achievement. One wretched culprit is now languishing in jail for the crime of selling Policeman Edward Hirsh two glasses of lemonade. Policeman Hirsh was, of course, acting under orders and the true credit for this great exploit belongs to Superintendent Leslie. It is he who appears to have given the recorder's order for the enforcement of the Sunday law its peculiar direction, for Director J. O. Brown is careful to explain that he has kept out of it, and that Superintendent Leslie reports directly to the recorder on such matters.

It seems to be settled, therefore, that to Leslie belongs the honor of getting a man in jail for selling lemonade. The superintendent may be a bit shy when it comes to enforcing the law against opium sales, speakeasies or disorderly houses, but he is a terror to those whose crimes consist in selling ice, milk, pop, ice cream or lemonade on Sunday. To any attacks on his efficiency he can now point with pride to the fact that through the vigilant activity of his sleuths he landed a man in jail for selling cold lemonade on a Sunday when the thermometer stood at 96 degrees in the shade, and anybody who was thirsty could get plenty of warm, muddy river water by finding a hydrant.

Everything Goes.

Senator Tillman's denunciation of the Ohio Democrats for introducing national questions into their state campaign is earnest, whole-hearted and mistaken. National questions are not out of place in Ohio, inasmuch as the people of the state are on the eve of electing a legislature that will choose a United States senator. There is necessarily, therefore, a national flavor to the Ohio campaign, as United States senators should be selected because of their views on national, rather than on state questions. The circumstance that a president is not to be elected until 1904 has no bearing whatever on the present situation. If things are different with the Democracy then, Ohio Democrats will undoubtedly be able to get in line. Their platform of this year need not interfere in any way with the state or national platforms of 1904, nor even with the state platform of next year. It is to be remembered that the Pennsylvania Democracy assembled one summer and adopted a rousing gold platform, and that during the same heated term the same delegates got together a little after their national convention, polished their gold platform to flinders and adopted a silver platform scarcely less boisterous than the other one had been. And one Robert E. Pattison "went along" on both occasions. The Ohio Democrats are undoubtedly as versatile as their Pennsylvania brethren and Senator Tillman should understand it. They can be depended on to make fools of themselves at the proper time and thus measure up to the standard of the pitchfork statesman.

Reform in China.

The dowager empress of China seems to have reached the conclusion that it is time for the Celestial empire to adopt modern ways. This is astonishing, for it was the effort of the emperor and his progressive advisers to do something of that sort for China that incurred the opposition of the dowager empress and her following, and brought about the costly and deplorable Boxer troubles. Perhaps the chastisement which China has received at the hands of the powers has at length convinced the ultra-conservative old empress that in the future the western nations must be reckoned with, and that the only way for China to reckon with them with any chance of holding its own is to imitate western ways and become more like western people. At all events, the exhortation to "copy the westerners," looks very much as though the empress had joined the progressive politicians of China, unless we are prepared to regard her order to the regency board as meaning the opposite of what it says. If so, it would be one of the most remarkable specimens of duplicity which China has ever presented to the world.

We think, however, that the empress' order must be accepted in good faith and be given full credence, for it has been followed promptly by the formation of a board of foreign affairs, by imperial edict, information of which has just been received by Minister Wu. Prince Ching has been appointed supervisor of this board—a man who is known to look with favor on foreign people an' foreign ways. Thus it appears that even China is not too old to learn, nor too "set in her ways" to make changes when expedient.

Reunion of "The Fighting Tenth."

More than ordinary interest attaches to the reunion in Connellsville to-day of the men who won renown in the Philippines as members of "The Fighting Tenth," the regiment that so nobly represented Western Pennsylvania on the far-away fields of battle. The citizens of Connellsville and vicinity have worked hard in arranging for the entertainment of the veterans, and the reunion will be an enjoyable event both for the entertainers and the entertained.

There will be many missing faces when the former comrades in arms assemble, for since their return members of the famous regiment have been singularly unfortunate in meeting with accidents. Thus the felicitations and congratulations befitting the occasion will be tinged with sad recollections, but not sufficiently to mar the pleasure that characterizes the reassembling of those who have together braved the perils of warfare. The grave and the gay are closely linked in the life of the soldier, but now that these heroes have returned to civil life the spirit of gaiety predominates as they compare their experiences while they were following the flag. These reunions have a beneficial effect in maintaining and strengthening friendship formed under trying circumstances, and the wish is hearty and unanimous that the members of "The Fighting Tenth" be long spared to hold and enjoy them.

Brothers in Politics.

Our friend and fellow-citizen, James M. Guffey, is making a new impression on the Democracy of Pennsylvania. Mr. Guffey went over to New York a few days ago and at a convention held in the Fifth Avenue hotel elected Robert E. Pattison chairman of the Democratic committee of Philadelphia. Mr. Guffey by this achievement possessed himself of whatever there is in the nature of a Democratic machine in the city of brotherly love. Previous to this he had a strong hold on the country districts and with the big city now well in hand, promises to cut much Democratic ice. At the same time our other friend and fellow-citizen, the colonel's brother, Wesley S. Guffey, is sloshing around in Pittsburgh in a purely non-partisan way, thereby keeping the family name before the public in a manner that is not designed to do injury to the Democratic organization in this city and county during the next year or two. The able colonel and his able brother are not devoting their entire time to bringing in petroleum gushers. They are in politics with intent to make history—local, state and national.

Good Work in Cuba.

The short vacation which Gen. Wood, military governor of Cuba, is taking, seems a fitting time for a brief review of the good work done by the Americans in that island. For one thing, the cities have been cleaned and put into first-class sanitary condition. The streets of Havana and other Cuban cities had been used for garbage receptacles ever since Spaniards began to dwell there, and the harbors were used as receptacles for filth of all sorts.

Some pictures recently published in Harper's Weekly of streets in Cuba's capital, before and after Americans assumed the control of affairs, were telling illustrations of the good work, but the most eloquent testimony is the announcement that yellow fever has been driven from Havana. In consequence of the disregard of all sanitary precautions, the death rate of that city used to be appallingly high, but in the exceedingly short space of time that the Americans have been in charge, the death rate has been reduced until it compares very favorably with that of some cities that have had the benefit of enlightened sanitary care for a much longer period.

It is no wonder that the Cuban people manifested the deepest kindness to Gen. Wood in his recent illness. They were expressing the gratitude they feel to the United States for showing how a country's affairs should be conducted.

Smallpox Stamped Out.

The discharge of the last patient from the municipal hospital frees the city from smallpox, which for a time threatened to spread to dangerous proportions. Since last November 120 persons stricken with the dreaded disease have been treated at the city hospital, and of these only one died. Another noteworthy feature disclosed by the records is the fact that all but six of the patients were colored persons.

Credit is due to the health officers of Pittsburgh for prevention of the spread of smallpox within the city limits. Although the disease was of a mild type, as a rule, and in every instance was brought from some distant point of infection, there was at all times a danger of it gaining a foothold here as a result of exposure, most of the victims having been found on the streets or having taken refuge in boarding houses. It was only through constant vigilance that the disease was kept under control and eventually stamped out, and continuance of the same vigilence should keep the city free from smallpox in the coming winter, the season when that disease is most dangerous.

A Household "Hoodoo."

An Ohio woman has added to the novel reasons for wanting a divorce the allegation that she has been "hoodooed" by her husband. According to her story the respondent is gifted with the power of inflicting ills of any sort he pleases on those who incur his wrath, and his wife classes herself among those who have thus been victimized.

Just how the woman is to prove to the court's satisfaction that her husband is the powerful wizard she declares him to be is a question that presents itself to all interested in the case. It is not the least likely that he would demonstrate his ability as a spellbinder in the court room, and thus there would be nothing left but the unsupported testimony of the petitioner for a divorce. The only alternative seems to be a recourse to photography, and if the woman can secure a snap shot of her husband in his "hoodoo act" the rest will be easy.

Any number of opulent Americans are willing to buy or lease Osborne house in the Isle of Wight if King Edward really desires to reduce expenses. But what a howl would rise from English throats if an American family were to move into Queen Victoria's late residence!

The man who told a woman that he did the Fosburg murder merely as a joke and to excite her admiration, will not think it so funny if he has to hang for it.

It is South Dakota that reports a marine serpent "at least 75 feet in length." But as it is a petrified specimen it is of no value as a summer resort attraction.

Governor General Wood of Cuba is certainly entitled to the vacation he is now enjoying, albeit his respite from his official duties will be but a short one.

Tillman has read McLaurin out of the Democratic party. Now let McLaurin read Tillman out, and then let South Carolina begin all over again.

THE STATE PRESS.

Perhaps after Chairman Pattison has quite finished with the campaign he has undertaken to manage in Philadelphia this year the aggregation of reformers will be wanting to look elsewhere for a gubernatorial candidate.—Altoona Tribune.

Donnelly out and Pattison in will not please the gentlemen who are about to reform the Democratic party in Philadelphia. Pattison will prove an even worse irritant for these gentlemen than Donnelly.—Greensburg Tribune.

A trip from Pittsburgh to Brownsville is all that is necessary to convince even an ordinary observer that the Monongahela valley is the iron and steel center of the world, and do not forget that McKeesport is in the center of the valley.—McKeesport News.

Gov. Stone is to be commended on his appointment of the four members of the capitol building commission. The responsibility of the whole affair devolves upon the executive, and he has so chosen the commission that it is altogether likely to divide equally and in that event he will have the deciding vote.—Greensburg Press.

The practice of McKeesport in the matter of letting public contracts is to give the lowest bidder the preference. It would be a much better plan to award all contracts upon the merits of the bidders if there is reason to believe that some are more capable than others. The most important thing in connection with public work is to be sure that it will be well done. No matter how low the price is a slighted piece of work is costly.—McKeesport Times.

People in Braddock are deeply interested in the strike now on in the Amalgamated association against Morgan's billion dollar trust. Anything of that nature is always interesting to the wage earner, for if he has resided long in the Monongahela valley the chances are that he has experienced the same scenes now being enacted. One thing that should make them more determined than ever to organize, is the fact that capital has and always will oppose unionism. If organization is good for one class it is good for another.—Braddock News.

Mosquito Bite Remedy.

From The London News.

Those who have from time to time suffered torture from insect bites may be glad to hear of a very simple and effective remedy for the poison of mosquitos. Even if inflammation has begun, it is found that napthaline will neutralize the poison, and if the place be rubbed immediately the mosquito has delivered his attack, all swelling will be effectively prevented. While we are waiting for the men of science to abolish mosquitos we must do something for ourselves.

SALUTATION.

Fellow-traveler, on the road,
Toiling on with heavy load,
Turn and look, for by your side
Journeys one who cannot hide
Kindred feeling, warm and true—
See, I reach my hand to you,
Take it, friend, whoe'er you be,
Come and walk awhile with me.

Here's my hand to you, and you,
Fair of mien or dusky hue,
Dwarfed in body or in mind,
Slow of thought, alert or blind,
Tall of stature, strong or weak,
Here am I, the friend you seek;
Hear me call wherе'er you be,
Comrade, walk awhile with me.

All are part of one great plan,
Fashioned when the world began;
Some may sow while others reap,
Some may laugh while others weep,
Some may ride the topmost wave,
Some have sorrow to the grave;
Each one of the human race
High or low, must fill his place.

Shall we then, since this is true,
Draw a line 'twixt me and you?
Shall we not assistance lend,
Kindliness and comfort send
To the one who drags the load
Traveling with us on the road?
From the self-same God are we,
Wise or simple, bond or free.

Have you been misunderstood,
Blamed for harm, while doing good,
Have you suffered, sinned and wept,
Keeping watch while others slept,
And when tempted, did you fall?
Here is One who knows it all;
Comrade, let us start anew,
May I come and walk with you?

It may change as on we go,
When the clouds of evening glow,
Unto us may One draw near,
Bringing words of hope and cheer,
And His presence, we have read,
Will be known in breaking bread;
And He may with us abide
In that blessed eventide.

NEW YORK NOTE BOOK

Brooklyn Bridge a Good Investment for the Greater City Instead of a Burden on Its Treasury—Strict Rules for Trolley Cars Using It.

Commercial Gazette Bureau,
No. 66 Tribune Building,
NEW YORK, July 30, 1901.

Contrary to a general impression, the big Brooklyn bridge is not an expensive luxury to Greater New York. Official figures show that it pays all its own expenses, including several hearty salaries, and gives to the city a revenue nearly equal to one-third the expenses of all the other bridges, large and small, in the metropolis. The trolley cars pay 5 cents a trip for the privilege of crossing the bridge, and the total amount received on this account in 1900 was $67,344. The "L" roads paid $250 a day, or $91,000, for the year. Since general attention has been attracted to the bridge by the breakdown last week, it is interesting to know that the officials of the structure have good financial reasons for desiring to keep trolley cars running across. The pay for this privilege is not bad, and naturally Commissioner Shea is desirous of keeping it if it can be done without imminent danger of dumping a few hundred people into East river some time or other. Anyone crossing the bridge can see for himself that the rule requiring trolley cars to keep at a distance of 102 feet is carefully followed. It causes considerable delay sometimes, but there is the penalty of instant discharge for any motorman who violates the order, and, after all, it is the passenger that suffers, for the motorman has all day to make the trip, if necessary. Blocks on the bridge are more frequent, however. There was on this afternoon, for a long time, that must have been maddening to passengers who were in a hurry to reach their destination. The traffic arrangements are not so smooth as might be desired; but at least there is the consolation that the bridge is more than paying expenses.

Expert Examining the Bridge.

Edwin Duryea, Jr., appointed by the district attorney to make an official examination of the Brooklyn bridge, began his work to-day. He is going carefully over every part, with one or two assistants, and by the time he has finished his task he will know more about the bridge than anyone since it was first opened, judging by contradictory statements from various officials. It is conceded that Mr. Duryea is well equipped for his responsible work, and that when he pronounces the bridge safe—if he does—there need be no further apprehension.

The Mendicant Nuisance.

Street begging is one of the minor annoyances of life in New York. One cannot walk any distance without being beset by some woe-begone individual, male or female, who wants a nickel for "something to eat" or to "help to get a bed." The seasoned New Yorker takes no more notice of these pests than is involved in telling him to get away, or in walking around him. Sometimes the beggar will become insolent when refused, and occasionally cases of actual assault are reported. These are not frequent, however, and are generally perpetrated on someone who is obviously under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and therefore easily handled. That there are all kinds of street beggars—or "panhandlers," in the vernacular—was illustrated in a police court to-day when a well-dressed young man was charged with begging in Fourteenth street. His excuse was that he was "broke" and was trying to get 5 cents for car fare to his home in Harlem. He said he was a clerk employed by a firm of Wall street brokers. The magistrate believed him and allowed him to go. And yet he had been violating the law as clearly as any of the unwashed bums who are perpetually in the hands of policemen for similar offenses.

Proof of Schley's Popularity.

When Rear Admiral Schley walked slowly up the aisle of the noble St. Patrick's cathedral as one of the honorary pallbearers at the funeral of Commodore Edward Kelly this morning, there was a general turning of heads to look at the strong face of the fighting admiral. Only the sacred character of the place and occasion prevented an outburst of cheering. That was perfectly apparent. Admiration for the admiral seemed, for the time, to outweigh grief for the dead man in the casket, much as his memory was respected. Whatever the result of the official inquiry in the Sampson-Schley controversy, there is no question that in New York Rear Admiral Schley is to-day one of the most popular naval officials living. Dewey not excepted.

Park Chairs Burlesqued.

The Spate park chairs have found their way to the footlights. In a burlesque at one of the roof gardens a dozen green chairs, fac-similes of those for the use of which Mr. Spate asked 5 cents a day each, are brought on the stage. A few jokes are uttered at the expense of Mr. Spate and President Clausen of the park board, and then a number of the characters take seats and conduct an old-fashioned minstrel show. If something of this kind had been done in the park with the original chairs, they might not have been so unpopular.

Lederer's Domestic Troubles.

The legal trouble between George W. Lederer, theatrical manager, and his wife, over the possession of their 5-year-old boy, is kept well in the public eye. There are new incidents every day. This morning Mr. Lederer aimed a left jab at the frontispiece of one of his wife's relatives, a Mr. Williams. The blow did not reach, but Mr. Williams' feelings were hurt. The affair took place in the supreme court, so that it had all the prestige to be derived from dignified environment. Lederer is well known in Pittsburgh as the manager of the Casino shows which have been presented there, one of the most noted being "The Belle of New York," in which Edna May came into fame.

May Drive Out Tunnel Smoke.

Commuters who go home by way of the New York Central have great hopes that the smoke nuisance of the tunnel just outside the Grand Central station will soon be abolished. The grand jury, which has been investigating the matter, finished its labors to-day, and it is understood that that body will recommend that the railroad company be compelled to use electricity instead of fuel in the tunnel.

Tunnel Labor Disturbances.

Disturbances among workmen in the rapid transit tunnel are frequent, although not all of them get to the surface. With so many hundreds of men employed it could not be expected that all should be content perpetually. Strikes and rumors of strikes have been numerous. There is trouble among some of the bricklayers now. Their grievance is that concrete is being used in many parts of the tunnel where they think brick should be laid. So they are striking for a change in the specifications.

Anarchists Abuse Their Privileges.

The police of Paterson, N. J., begin to think that anarchists have it too much their own way in that favored town. Chief Graul has announced that he will not permit any more anarchist meetings. At the gathering last night to glorify Breci, who killed King Humbert of Italy, one of the speakers said that anything could be said in Paterson without interference by the authorities. This has hurt the chief's official dignity, and he says he will show them. It will be remembered that Paterson was the scene of the Jennie Bosschieter murder.

The Probe Going Deep.

Investigation of the affairs of the Seventh National bank, which suspended payment recently, continues. Every day the grand jury brings some of the officials before it and questions them closely. The proceedings, of course, are secret and no positive knowledge of what goes on behind the closed doors has reached any outsider. Rumors of the resumption of business by the bank are rife, but they are only rumors. The main fact, which impresses itself favorably on depositors, is that the investigation is apparently thorough and impartial.

Motorman Not Always to Blame.

Children are killed every day by trolley cars in New York. That the motormen are not always to blame is illustrated in the case of one John Keane, who was arraigned in a police court for having killed a 9-year-old boy last night. Keane said that the boy deliberately ran in front of the car, was struck by the fender and scooped into the safety basket. But that was not all. The car was on a down grade, and before the motorman could stop it the boy had been shaken out of the basket and was ground to death under the wheels. How the trolley cars contrive to miss so many children in the crowded tenement districts is a more pertinent question than why they kill one now and then. In many of the streets on the East and West Sides, there is a mob of careless youngsters on the tracks at all times, particularly in the evening. The motorman is supposed to make time, and he plows through the surging stream of infantile humanity, turning them aside as the cut-water of a steamer goes through waves. Most of these youngsters, having been born on the car tracks, as it were, and knowing the ways of motormen, get out of the way in time. Occasionally some little anfortunate, intent on a game of "tag," or something of the kind, runs under the front of the car, and the motorman is arrested. Very seldom is it the man's fault, as any New Yorker can testify.

Dining In Public.

This is the season when the stroller along Broadway can see how the comfortable people of the city take dinner. It is the custom of a large portion of the population of New York in the summer to dine at some one of the hotels or restaurants uptown. They save all the heat and trouble of cooking in their flats, and are sure of getting whatever is in season served in dainty and attractive fashion. As the windows of the restaurants are open and uncurtained, anyone can look right into the dining rooms from the sidewalks. Lights, softened by shades of red or some other warm color, shed a picturesque glow upon the table equipage, and the waiters, well trained, move swiftly about without fuss or flurry, while the diners, with the troubles and annoyances of the day over, give themselves up to that quiet enjoyment of their dinners which is the greatest incentive to good digestion. The fact that it is all open to the street does not detract from the comfort of the meal, and it is a fine advertisement for the establishment.

Three Shifts For Policemen.

According to latest gossip in the police department, the three-platoon system is to go into operation on August 10. This means that there will be three shifts of policemen, who will thus be on duty eight hours each. It is the idea of Commissioner Murphy, and involves the taking away from soft snaps in the way of special details of a number of policemen who have been pets of the department for various reasons.

Mobe Rapid Transit.

Several handsome new automobiles for public use have made their appearance in the streets of New York. They will hold about 10 passengers each, and their purpose is set forth in a blazing inscription in gold letters on the side: "Mobe Rapid Transit." They run between the city and Coney Island, Brighton beach and the resorts at the seashore, and the charge for a ride to those places is 25 cents. They have been in commission only a day or two, but have already become exceedingly popular. One can go on the trolley cars for 10 cents, but the added comfort of the mobes is well worth the extra 15 cents, in the general estimation. Several of the new vehicles were on view in Park row to-day, and it was shown by their chauffeurs that all the latest wrinkles in horseless carriages were embraced in the rapid transit mobes. Many more are to be built, it is said, and there is a possibility that they will largely displace cabs in the city before the winter has fairly set in.

Diamonds For a Dog.

A New York woman whose husband makes millions in Wall street has a new collar for her fox terrier. She demanded something unique, and she has it. The collar is a reproduction of old lace in diamonds and emeralds, set off with one large diamond button that appears to hold it in place. The real fastening is something stronger, but not so gorgeous. Is it necessary to say that this particular dog is never trusted alone in the streets?

GEN. WHEELER MARSHAL.

The Hero of One of the Most Brilliant Fetes of the Season at Gay Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 30.—(Special.)—Gen. Joe Wheeler was the hero here to-day in one of the most brilliant fetes in the history of this resort. He appeared when the proceedings were in their infancy, and being invited to be chief marshal of the parade, took hold with energy and precision, with his staff of Spanish war veterans.

About 9 o'clock the mists rolled away, and although the cutter race in the morning was run in a dense fog, the noon sun came out in all its glory. There was not a hitch in any performance. Showers of confetti met incoming crowds and decorated every one all day.

The 12-oared cutter race between the Old Colony machine shops crew and the Father Mathew Total Abstinence society and the Newport naval reserves, was rowed in a dense fog. The Father Mathew crew took the lead and were easy winners of the purse of $100. A race for 12-oared crews from the battleships followed. It was nip and tuck between the Massachusetts and the Kearsarge until the Massachusetts pulled over the line, winners by but five lengths.

EUROPEAN GOSSIP.

The Baby Princess of the Italian Court, the Gifts and Tributes and the Rough and Ready Ways of Her Nurse.

BY THE DUCHESSE DE BELIMERE.

Victor Emmanuel III. has been an exceptionally busy person since the arrival of tiny Princess Yolanda. All day long and far into the night his majesty sits at his study table dictating telegrams, writing personal letters, examining charity petitions or discussing with his ministers the numerous philanthropic institutions to be organized in the baby's honor. Of the 10,000 congratulatory telegrams addressed to the king every one has received a reply. The prettiest congratulations came from Trieste by pigeon post. They took eight hours to make the journey to Rome, and the first six received a gold medal from the Trieste society. The first pair to arrive have since been decorated and sent to the quirinal as a gift to the baby. King Victor's rule that all correspondence should receive his personal attention has had to be broken. The 365,000 petitions for charity which have poured into the palace during the past month have been turned over to the discretion of three supplementary clerks. To each of the 237 children born in Rome, Naples and their provinces on the same day as Yolanda the king has sent a wicker cradle lined with blue silk, a dainty batists outfit and $20 in a savings bank book. His liberality on this occasion has astonished even his own court. In Milan alone over $200,000 were distributed to the poor. Turin was granted $10,000, while Rome got $40,000 for the foundation of a children's hospital and $20,000 for distribution among its most needy orphans. The favors given at the royal baptism were paid for from his majesty's private purse, and ran well into five figures. Every court lady received a diamond medal. The design was a royal crown with the initials "V. E." and "H." below.

Queen Margherita's Gift.

Though more disappointed than any person else at the sex of the quirinal baby, Queen Margherita has become reconciled to the inevitable and cannot shower enough presents upon it. Her first gift never leaves the princess' neck. It is a small gold medal, representing the Virgin Mary on one side and the child Jesus holding the world on the other. Another handsome gift, a solid gold toilet set with the baby's initials and the Savoy arms, decorates the nursery. Several of the queen dowager's offerings figured at the baptism, the most beautiful being the rose satin cushion covered with priceless lace, the altar cloth edged with lace which formerly trimmed the queen's wedding dress, and the oil painting representing a saintly woman of the house of Savoy presenting her child to the Madonna, which hung on an ermine background above the altar. Queen Helena herself made all her child's layette with the exception of two much befrilled and furbelowed robes for state occasions, which were ordered from the Sisters dell'Aqua. One of these is the christening dress worth hundreds of dollars. It is of cambric trimmed with rare lace and gold and silver designs in relief. The costume, of white china crepe, and the cap are covered with old Burlane. The other robe, to be worn at the public function attended by little Princess Yolanda, is of white mousseline de soie, embroidered with silver flowers on a pale blue ground.

Though Princess Milena had carefully selected a Montenegrin nurse for her grandchild, it was decided at the last moment that Queen Helena's wishes should be crossed, and a suitable person was found in Tuscany. The queen has had to content herself with the fact that one of the two picturesque costumes worn by Madeleine Cutti is Montenegrin. The other is Tuscan, consisting of a crimson skirt, velvet bodice lavishly trimmed with gold, and a white tucker. The red satin bonnet is made in the form of a crown; from it fall two broad ribbons bearing the arms of Savoy embroidered in gold. Her jewelry consists of two imposing coral earrings and a coral necklace.

The Baby Princess' Nurse.

Contrary to expectations Madeleine Cutti has displayed no embarrassment whatever at her elevated surroundings. Quite the opposite. The stiff dowagers of the Italian court have been more than once astounded at her coolness. From the first nothing has seemed to surprise her. She did not even express satisfaction with the luxurious suite of rooms prepared for her, and astounded King Victor five minutes after her arrival by asking him to order her a glass of wine. A curtain lecture from Countess Guicciardini, one of the queen's ladies-in-waiting, has improved her manners considerably. Her old assertiveness, however, showed up again the other day when the duchess of Genoa called to make her great-grandchild's acquaintance. Evidently the warmth of the duchess' embrace did not please the nurse, who hastily jumped up and in a most unceremonious fashion snatched the baby up, saying, "Don't squeeze that child so hard! can't you see your are hurting her?" Day and night Madeleine Cutti watches her charge with a jealous eye, and had she her way only the king and queen would be allowed to approach it. Her one fear is lest something may happen to the infant and her monthly allowance may be stopped. According to agreement she is to receive $30 a month, $2,000 at the appearance of Princess Yolanda's first tooth, $2,000 when she pronounces her first word, and another $2,000 when she makes her first step. When leaving the palace at the expiration of her two years' service the woman will be given a check for $6,000 and is to be paid for the rest of her life a yearly pension of $250.

USED PHILLIPS' NAME.

Corn King Exposes a Swindle in Which His Reputation Is Made Use of.

CHICAGO, July 30.—George H. Phillips, of the board of trade, to-day reported to the postal authorities his discovery of an alleged attempt at a gigantic swindle. He told Inspector Stuart that the country had been flooded with circulars emanating from New York asking for subscriptions to a $3,000,000 fictitious pool for a deal in September corn.

The address of the "New York Office" of "Phillips & Co." is given as 6 Wall street. In concluding the circular says:

"Our Mr. Phillips and his operations in the corn market during the past year are undoubtedly well known to you and we therefore need no further introduction.

"It is our purpose to handle this deal in the same conservative manner in which all our previous operations have been conducted, and we have no hesitancy in saying that a much larger profit will be realized by each individual subscriber to this pool than has yet been shown.

"The opportunity to invest $1,000 or as much more as you may desire in this syndicate is hereby presented to you.

"Subscription books will close promptly on the morning of August 1. You will therefore see the necessity of prompt action on your part.

"Make all drafts payable to our New York office and have the kindness to treat this communication as personal and strictly confidential, should you join us or not, as success depends largely on the secrecy of our plans and operations."

NEW MONEY ORDER FORM.

It Will Have the Name of the Payee or Firm Printed in Red Ink.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—(Special.)—The postoffice department has issued an order designed to be of special advantage to business men. Those firms and business houses that have been in the habit of sending money order blanks to their customers, will be supplied free of cost with special money order blanks in which the name of the payee or firm sending them our will be conspicuously printed in red ink.

The department hopes that if the use of these forms is adopted small coins and stamps as a means of the exchange may disappear from the mails.

From a High Viewpoint.

Even those who got into Oklahoma early did not avoid the rush.

Bugler Titus, the first man to scale the Peking wall, has managed to climb into West Point.

Beside conducting royal rummage sales, King Edward has gone into the real estate business. He has a few palaces to let.

Greece is said to be about to annex Crete. Sultan Abdul Hamid will regard this as indiscreet.

A fierce wind and lightning storm hit Punxsutawney the other day, but not a consonant was jarred out of the town's name.

That Spaniard who claims the whole of Manila and a few hundred thousand acres outside will get it—in the neck.

M. Santos Dumont's balloon moved in high circles when it maneuvered over the Longchamps race track.

There is great anfortunate of prairie schooners in the vicinity of El Reno.

Admiral Kimberly asks to be excused. There is no mad rush of naval officers to serve on the Schley-Sampson board of inquiry.

Angels Are Unearthly.

"They say," said Miss Eastlake to Mr. Winterton, "that Mr. Clark plays golf like an angel."

"Well, that's one way of putting it!" replied Mr. Winterton.

"What do you mean?"

"I have heard him use some unearthly language."

Cause of the Heat.

"An astronomer in Kansas City has come out with an explanation of the intense heat of the present summer," remarked Mrs. Northside.

"Does he agree with the theory that our sun is a variable star, and is now engaged in 'burning a few convulsions?'" her husband asked.

"No; this theory is entirely different. Climatic conditions are said by this astronomer to be similar to those of the summer of 1854, when the hot face of Jupiter was turned toward us. The hot face confronts us again, and normal temperature will not be restored until it is turned away."

"Then," commented Mr. Northside, "I hope that Jupiter will soon turn his hot face away and give us the cold shoulder."

His Reward.

"So you are going away, are you, Jones?" asked Smith, as Jones appeared on the seaside hotel veranda with his suit case in his hand.

"Yes, Smith, I am ready to start," replied Jones, "not that I wish to go, for I have enjoyed my vacation, but because I seem to be needed at the store. Before I go, though, I want to thank you once more for your heroism the other day."

Smith waved his hand deprecatingly, as though heroism were nothing to him, but Jones went on:

"You saved my life, sir! Without your timely assistance I should have drowned. I wish not only to thank you, sir, but to give you a substantial evidence of my gratitude."

Thereupon Jones placed in Smith's hand a package neatly done up and sealed.

"O, this is too much!" murmured the hero! one, visions of bonds and stocks, and of riches exceeding the treasures of Capt. Kidd flitting through his brain.

"Not at all, Smith," Jones persisted. "You saved my life! You will find this useful to you in the extended stay you intend to remain at this hotel."

Saying this Jones was gone, and Smith immediately hurried up to his room on the fifth floor to examine his treasure, the reward of his heroism—the price of Jones' life.

He found it was a diagram showing the shortest cut from the veranda to the dining room.—POINT BREEZE.

THEY WORE HORSE BONNETS.

But Forgot That the Horse Is Not the Only Animal to Wear Them.

Two young fellows about 18 years old caused much merriment in a Penn avenue restaurant yesterday. They had secured two of those straw hats so popular with horses just now, and had the hats tied on with their ears protruding through the holes in the sides. They first ordered pie, following this with an order of griddle cakes. Their antics caused much amusement, and the waiter girls became so interested in the young fellows that they forgot that any other customers were in the place. All the while the boys kept up a run of badinage, infused with the humor of the thing, and peals of laughter could be heard for blocks.

The young men's enjoyment was shortlived however. A man entered the place and stood up in front of them at a glance. He stepped directly behind the smart young men and placing his hands behind his ears waved them backwards and forwards and emitted a noise resembling the bray of a donkey.

The young fellows took the hint in an instant. Their faces became red, and rushing pellmell to the desk they paid their bill. When last seen they were scurrying up the nearest alley in an endeavor to outrun the laughter which followed them.

COUNT BECOMES A FATHER

Event Recalls a Two Weeks' Romance One

THE Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, bishop of the diocese of Pittsburgh, has been spending several days at Cape May, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Wister of Philadelphia, at their cottage. The bishop has enjoyed the bathing, been an interested spectator at the golf links, and the life of the semi-formal social gatherings which have taken place. On Saturday he was the guest of honor at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Wister for their house guests.

Among other well-known Pennsylvanians at Cape May are James T. Mitchell of the Pennsylvania supreme court and ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison.

The golf links furnish a large part of the social entertainment of the fashionable people who summer at Cape May. Judge and Mrs. Elliott Rodgers are daily on the links and Mrs. Rodgers is adding to the laurels she won on the fair green last season. She was a contestant for the prize in the first clock golf putting contest, given Monday afternoon by the Ladies' Association of the Cape May Golf club, which was won by Mrs. Louis H. Ayres of Philadelphia with a score of 23. The first approaching and driving contest of the season on the Cape May links also took place on Monday and Mrs. Rodgers was among the players.

Coming Home from Manila.

Maj. and Mrs. Robert Brown, the latter a cousin of Mrs. Charles Herbert Halcomb of Ridge avenue, Allegheny, are on their way home from Manila. Mrs. Brown stopped in Pittsburgh a few hours two years ago, on her way to Manila to join her husband. Maj. Brown is a member of Gen. McArthur's staff and he and his wife sailed from the Philippines with the general and his party early in July. They will spend a few days in Japan and reach San Francisco in September.

Mrs. Brown is a granddaughter of Gen. Sumner of civil war fame, and a niece of Col. Samuel S. Sumner, military attache at the United States embassy in London, now in Manila. She is a sister of Lieutenant Lord, for several years United States government inspector at the Carnegie mills. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, Maj. Brown, then Lieut. Brown, was stationed at Washington, Mr. Wellington, the post to which Lieut. Manus McCloskey had been assigned and to which he will go with his bride immediately after their wedding August 14.

A Day of Outings for the Children.

Yesterday was a day of outings for the little people of the city. Pittsburgh, Allegheny and the South Side contributed to the crowds of children who spent the day in the parks or went to the Fresh Air Home at Glenfield.

The children from the Birmingham playgrounds, 500 of them, were taken to Southern Avenue park in special street cars, and the morning and afternoon was spent in the open air. The party was under the care of Miss Grace Phillips, kindergarten director; Miss Stevenson, her assistant, and Mrs. Samuel Miller, chairman of the playground committee, in the park there were sand piles, swings, hammocks and other attractions.

Mrs. O. L. Kleber took a party of nearly 100 children to Highland park from the summer playground at the Young Men's Hebrew club house, Lawrenceville.

One hundred and twenty-five children went to the Fresh Air Home at Glenfield for a two weeks' outing.

Wedding at Kittanning To-Day.

KITTANNING, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—To-morrow afternoon at 1:30 Charles E. Harrington, a prominent attorney of this place, will be united in marriage to Miss Margaret Cooper of Parker at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding, although a home affair, will be one of the social events of the season, both the contracting parties are of old families and are high in social circles. Mr. Harrington is a son of A. S. Harrington and Miss Cooper is the daughter of Mrs. Sarah Cooper. After a short wedding trip the young couple will take up their residence in Kittanning.

Horse Show in the Fall.

Pittsburgh expects to have a horse show again this fall. At the head of the movement are Alexander M. Jenkinson, John G. Bennett and other owners of fine horses and the city specialist in the matter will try to fit up Duquesne Garden for the horse show after the close of the summer opera season. The show will be held late in October or early in November and will be on a much more elaborate scale hitherto impossible because of the limited quarters in the Schenley riding academy.

Play With New Castle.

The Pittsburgh Field club has arranged to play the New Castle Golf club at New Castle on Saturday. It will be the first meeting of the two clubs, and as neither has played the same teams there is no way of judging their relative strength. The Field club is confident of winning, as in the matches with all other out-of-town teams this season it has won. It will line up as follows: Harvey Penn, George Harvey, C. A. Tucker, G. Laird, J. A. E. Thompson and M. D. Stevenson.

Social Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Hyndman of Craig street left Sunday for a month's visit in the White mountains and Berkshire hills.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sailor of Swissvale left last night for a trip to Europe. They will take the Hamburg-American line steamer "Teutonic" for Liverpool. Mr. and Mrs. Sailor will visit Ireland, Scotland, England and the principal cities on the continent.

Miss Sara Ponce gave an informal entertainment last evening for the members of the Young Woman's Christian association.

Mr. David Roney of Boggs & Buhl came back yesterday from a two-months' purchasing tour through Oriental countries.

THE OLDEST DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Burnett, Whose Father Fought in Revolution, 102 Years Old.

NEW YORK, July 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. David Burnett of Cape Vincent, who is believed to be the only living daughter of the Revolution in New York state, celebrated her 102d birthday to-day. She is the daughter of Uriel Moseley, who fought through the Revolution.

Mrs. Burnett is the sixth descendant of John Alden and Priscilla of the Mayflower, and she still has in possession a piece of the canvas tent and one or two pieces of crockery they brought over in the Mayflower. She has 10 grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

WON FIRST GAME.

Homestead Had a Hot Time at Uniontown.

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—The first of a series of games between the Homestead L. A. C. and the Uniontown team was pulled off here to-day, and a large crowd attended. The clubs are playing for a purse of $250, and to-day's game was by far the best one of the season. Both clubs played their best, and the visitors did not appear overcome by either side until the end, when the visitors won out by one run. They will play again to-morrow. Score:

Bloomer Girls Beat Strikers.

The McKeesport strikers played the New England Bloomer Girls ball team yesterday at McKeesport. It was a great game, and was attended by about 2,500. The McKeesport team was made up entirely of the striking employes of the Wood works, and everything was against them. When a husky ironworker hit the ball pitched to him by a petite and really good-looking girl in the red shirt and red bloomers, the crowd yelled shame. Nobody wanted the iron workers to win, but they tried to, just the same. The girls were just one too many for the iron workers, however, and the visiting nine resulted 11 to 10 in favor of the wearers of the bloomers.

Ramsey's Hit Won the Game.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—The Institute added another victory to its long list by defeating the strong Hecla team at Erick park this afternoon. The game was a good one until the ninth inning, when Ramsey cleared the occupied bases by a slashing three-bagger to deep left. Score:

Dubois Beat Jamestown.

DUBOIS, PA., July 30.—The DuBois team easily defeated the Jamestown (N. Y.) team, champions of Western New York, this afternoon. The home team played an errorless game and hit the ball hard. The score:

Got Neither Hit Nor Run.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—Punxsutawney played an errorless game today, shutting out the Winter A. C. Carian's pitching was the leading feature, he not giving the visitors a hit. Score:

Among the Amateurs.

The Young Hogans Stars would like to arrange a game for Saturday with some 9-year-old team. Address James McKeever, 69 Thirteenth street.

The Good Will A. C. would like to arrange a game with any 14 or 15-year-old team for Saturday, August 3, on their own grounds. For further particulars address R. McC., 14 Brown street, Allegheny.

The Fuller A. C. will play Meyran A. C. on Saturday on the M. A. C. grounds. F. A. C. still have a few open dates which they would like to fill with all good teams having grounds. Address Charles Kraus, East Pittsburgh.

The Admiral A. C. is without a game for Saturday, August 3, and would like to arrange a game with all strong teams for that date and to-day, the Fairbanks, Invicts, Millvale Our Boys, Winter A. C., Windsors and Duquesne-ellers preferred. Address P. McKnight, 2737 Second avenue, city. Tel. 2417 C. D. & P.

There was a report out that the Silver Kings had resigned from the league, but Manager Cramer says there is no truth in the statement whatever, and the Kings will play all games as arranged. The reason they did not play Saturday was that four players were working and another was sick. The Silver Kings will play the Meivin A. C. August 3, and the Rosebuds on this with. All players are requested to report for practice every day this week. Will the manager of the Meivin A. C. please call up Chas. D. Cramer, Bell 1248, or P. & A. 1161?

Company A will play the Superiors of Dravosburg Saturday on the latter's grounds, and expect to give a good account of themselves, for the team is fast and can play ball, but have lost seven games by one run and two by two runs, which, taking into consideration that Company C is a much lighter team than its opponents, is rather good. The rough and ready boys claim that they are in the game to stay, and will come out on top before the season closes. Any strong team wanting games for August (having grounds) address E. N. McGregor, 63 Miller street, city.

HIGHLANDER WON MONTAUK STAKES

The Race Was a Battle All the Way With a Close Finish.

THREE FAVORITES WERE AT THE FRONT

The Track Was Dead and Slow, but the Racing Was Splendid, and There Was a Large Crowd Out to Enjoy It.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Three favorites were successful at Brighton Beach to-day—All Gold at 5 to 2, Eloin at 8 to 5 and Utopian at 7 to 5. The track had dried out on top but was dead and slow close to the rail. The Montauk stakes for two-year-olds at 5½ furlongs was the fixture decided. Hyphen and Homestead were scratched, but Highlander was added and with Landry up proved the winning combination. Major Dangerfield was a strong favorite at 7 to 5, with Flywheel second choice at 3 to 1. Highlander was well backed, however, at 6 and 7 to 1. They were sent off to a fair start with the favorite in front. Albert and Highlander raced right up to time, however, and the three drawing away from the others ran neck and neck for one-half a mile. Highlander won, driving by three parts of a length. Summaries:

TROUBLE OVER A GAME.

Bloomer Girls Stir Up Strife at Sewickley.

Contrary to announcement, it will not be the Sewickley Y. M. C. A. second baseball team which will play the Boston Bloomer Girls in Sewickley on Friday of this week. Certain members of the Y. M. C. A. management have objected very strenuously to a Y. M. C. A. team taking part in a game with the Bloomer Girls, simply on account of their being girls, and refused to give the athletic field for the game. They also went so far as to threaten to expel from the Y. M. C. A. all who participate in the game. The action by the management has put no damper on the preparations of the game, however, and the crowd promises to be a record-breaker for Sewickley. The team has secured Sidesman's baseball park for the game, and regardless of all threats, the team that will play will be composed principally of Y. M. C. A. players, not being the Y. M. C. A. second team. Some indignation is expressed by at least a part of the business men of town over the action of the Y. M. C. A. management, and the boys have been offered aid financially for carrying the game, and regardless of all threats, the team that will play will be composed principally of Y. M. C. ...Rockefeller Following Tired of Fight to Wipe Heinze Off the Earth.

...BIGGEST JOB STANDARD EVER TACKLED

Wall Street Speculators Keeping a Sharp Watch on Pittsburgh While Steel Strike Hangs Fire—Dividend Melons to Be Cut in August.

BY E. W. HARDEN.

(By Private Wire to Commercial Gazette.)

NEW YORK, July 30.—A settlement of the ugly Heinze-Rockefeller copper war seems to have been brought within the range of probability. Negotiations have been reopened, and if there is anything to be guessed from the more conciliatory attitude, at least, of the Standard Oil party, it is that these latest approaches are made in genuine faith.

An official of the Amalgamated Copper Company, in which the Standard Oil interests are vested, said to-day he hoped the end was near, but from many failures along similar lines he had learned not to be confident. It is understood that the Rockefeller crowd is prepared to offer $30,000,000 for the Montana Ore Purchasing Company and other Heinze properties, and that papers already have been drawn. This would put it up to Mr. Heinze, but it must be said that he seems none too anxious to sell out.

This copper war is the most expensive contest the Standard Oil party ever got into. Upward of 70 legal suits involving the Amalgamated Copper Company and the Montana Ore Purchasing Company now pend in the courts of Montana, and owing to numerous injunctions and restraining orders, neither side can work its properties satisfactorily. It is estimated that the fight has cost the Amalgamated Company something like $1,500,000 a year.

It is understood that many Amalgamated stockholders are weary of the matter and want to know why Mr. Heinze has not been annihilated, as per Standard Oil threats. The fact is that Mr. Heinze refused to be swept off the earth, and is still doing a great deal of business and making a vast amount of trouble. The earning capacity of his properties goes right on increasing. If Mr. Heinze should sell out to the Rockefeller crowd, it would put the Amalgamated Company in absolute control of the copper industry of this country and make it the dominant copper power of the world. The sooner it pays Mr. Heinze his price the sooner it will be able to reach its ambitions. Meanwhile, in the stock market to-day, there was some quiet buying of Amalgamated stock by inside interests.

Famous Corn Corner Recalled.

Corn has been a prolific topic in Wall street this past fortnight. Almost any trader or broker can carry you back to some prize gyration of the yellow cereal, but it requires something of a memory to recite the story of the famous Husted-Hazeltine corner. That was nearly 20 years ago, when all of Europe speculated heavily in the New York market, when there were no regular hours of trading, which sometimes continued until 8 or 9 o'clock at night, and when speculative methods generally lent themselves more readily to corner-making. Messrs. Husted and Hazeltine were very daring operators, and both young men. They were bulls on corn, and began to buy a certain option at 70. It broke gradually to 60, and on the decline Europe got short up to its neck. As the month waned Europe foresaw a squeeze and began to cover. That was the beginning of the reckoning.

Husted and Hazeltine bought all the way up, as they had bought all the way down, and on the last day of the option they began to bid $1 10 for corn in order to establish that as a settlement price. But they had counted without the thrifty farmer, who even then had learned to sweep his bins and send grain into a cornered market. John Lyons, a Chicago merchant, who had had nothing to do with the corner, loaded all the corn he could find into two freight trains and dispatched them for New York behind two passenger trains. Others like Mr. Lyons sent tugs down the sea to recall grain that had started for other ports, and the result was that Husted and Hazeltine had to pay $1 10 for all this corn in order to maintain their corner. To do this cost them so much that the profits on corn they had bought from 60 cents up were wiped out, and they lost so much money on the game that eventually they waned as speculative factors in the grain market. This corner made the highest price that was ever paid in New York for corn since they began to keep records on grain speculation.

Wall Street Watches Pittsburgh.

The steel shares again contributed nearly one-fourth of what stock market there was, and even so they were stupid and uninteresting. As anyone might have expected, the lapse of the noon hour without a positive announcement from Pittsburgh that the strike had been settled, was made the pretext for a rumor alleging a hitch in the negotiations. There was some scattered selling after that, but whether the rumor really excited the selling, or was used merely to disguise some more unloading, could not be determined to the satisfaction of the board room. With the strike out of the way, it would seem that the immediate future course of the steel shares depends largely upon the purpose of those interests who unloaded upward of 100,000 shares on Monday's market, and who are believed still to have a lot of the stock they bought between 38 and 42. They may decide to depress the stock and buy more, or to take it to a higher level and unload there. For the present indications are wanting.

Melons to Be Cut in August.

Wall street has made its calculations on the dividend and interest payments to be distributed during August. The total disbursements on stocks and bonds, including $1,500,000 on government bonds, will amount to $37,435,055, which heralds liberal dividend disbursements. It will be those of the United Steel Corporation. The quarterly 1¾ per cent dividend on its preferred stock calls for $8,898,510 and is payable August 7. The 1¼ per cent dividend on its bonds calls for $4,800,000, or a total on bonds and preferred stock of $13,698,510. The common stock dividend, having been arranged for payment six weeks after the preferred dividend, will figure that the assessments of September 7 on a small proportion of the steel profits will go to Pittsburgh, where many of the securities are held. It is difficult to approximate how much will go to Pittsburgh, but it is believed that at least $500,000 will be distributed there among those interests now resident there or who lately were identified exclusively with the steel business of the Pittsburgh district. These dividends, it should be said, are calculated not upon the capital stock of the United States Steel Corporation, but upon the amount of stock and bonds outstanding.

Americans Were Quiet.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: The markets here were lifeless to-day, pending completion of the settlement. The tone was steady. Americans showed no decided tendency. There was some selling of Canadian rails and steel shares, but the movements were insignificant, and the close was hesitating. More continental funds are being employed here. The settlement is causing hardening in the open market. The bank lent large sums for three days at 3 per cent. Berlin check, 20.42½.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Latest Strikes in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

(By Private Wire to Commercial Gazette.)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Advices from Cripple Creek state that a new vein containing a streak of high-grade ore has been opened in the 100-foot level of the Modoc. For the year ending June 30 the ore from this mine averaged $73 a ton. A test shipment of six tons from Breadstreet shaft of the Black Belles returned $44 a ton.

In the Senator Morgan, near Pearl, Ida., a three-foot ledge of rich sulphide ore has been uncovered. The Unata has a four-foot ledge that carries high-grade lead, and on the Eureka a vein has been cut at a depth of 245 feet that runs 43 per cent lead and has good values in gold and silver.

Despite heavy treatment and transportation costs, a shipment of five tons from the Regent, in Sangre de Cristo district, near Florence, Col., netted $33 to the ton.

On the James Cochran, near Rockford, S. D., a five-foot vein is exposed that yields $22 gold. The ore chute of the Montezuma is 1,500 feet long, the rock averaging $5. Close to the town a ledge 150 feet wide, carrying 50 per cent iron and $5 gold, has been opened. On the Yellow Bird, the ore averages $15 gold.

Smelting ore running from $30 to $100 is being taken from the Carlova tunnel, near Empire, Col. A 14-inch streak of $50 iron has been struck in the Queen. The values are in lead, gold and silver.

The mill at the Lawrence, Cotter creek, Cal., turned out 46 pounds of gold bullion in three days. The vein from which the ore came is three feet wide and contains 15 inches that assays $2,000 gold. Ore is being hoisted from the Yellow Rose of Texas, which runs from $100 to $500 to the ton.

A porphyry dyke showing three feet of milling ore yielding $200 to the ton has been opened near the Dodge placer, Trinity county, Cal. The same claim has a 20-foot body of $10 ore uncovered.

Fifty tons from the tunnel upon the ledge of the Waseo, near Tyson, Ida., gave returns of $32 gold a ton.

DULL DAY IN WALL STREET

Uncertainty About Outcome of Strike Negotiations an Influential Factor.

STEEL STOCKS FAIRLY ACTIVE

Ease in Money Market Allays Apprehension in That Direction, Although Banks Are Very Cautious About Making Loans.

(Special to the Commercial Gazette.)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Prices declined in to-day's slightly dull stock market, not because of any definite news of an unfavorable character, but apparently because of the doubt as to whether the preliminary agreement reached by the Amalgamated association and the United States Steel Corporation would be finally ratified by the association. It was on account of uncertainty in this respect that the corn market had a hardening tendency, and notwithstanding the weather in the west was the opposite to this point of view, Chicago continued to send gloomy advices.

The market opened dull and irregular and so continued during the day. There were only a few exceptions to the generally sagging tendency of prices, comparatively firm features of the railroad list being Illinois Central, Norfolk & Western and St. Paul. These stocks showed a fair degree of support, but the slight gains in each were lost with the close of the session. Aside from the railroad list there was no activity except in the United States Steel issues, which, for the reason already noted, were comparatively heavy. Sugar Refining was fairly steady, apparently in the belief that the company benefited itself by increasing its business in the West Indies.

The present ease of money, takes that factor out of immediate consideration. But the future of the money market and the caution of bankers in locking up capital in long-time loans serves as a warning of possible future contingencies. The course of the government revenues is a disappointment to those who hoped for relaxation of demands on the money market from that source. In spite of the operation of the amended internal revenue law the government's exhibits continue to run well over those of last year, while the expenditures thus far this month have fallen more than $800,000 below those of July last year. As a consequence the government deficit for this month is only a little over $2,000,000, whereas it had amounted to $4,665,639 by this time in July of last year. The sub-treasury at New York has taken over $1,000,000 from the market since Friday last. For the last week in July last year, preceding the government interest disbursements in August, the sub-treasury yielded a small sum to the New York money market. The continuance of these unlooked-for conditions of the government revenues will materially affect the money market conditions during the period of interior crop demands upon New York. These doubtful factors in the outlook discouraged any buying demand and made the market soft and yielding even to the light selling pressure that was brought to bear upon it. The reactionary tendency gained force and the closing was dull and weak at about the lowest, many important railroad stocks showing net losses of a point or more.

GOOD STROKE OF LUCK ON RICHWOOD RUN

Well Owned by South Penn and Philadelphia Companies Does 25 Bbls. an Hour.

On Richwood run, Wetzel county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil and the Philadelphia companies have a pleasant surprise at their No. 3 on the Mary Willey farm. The well was completed last month and was rated as an 80-barrel producer. Monday morning they gave it a shot and increased its production to 25 barrels an hour, or at the rate of 625 barrels a day.

On Cave run, Pleasants county, Ellsworth, Davis & Co. have drilled in their No. 7 on the John Wagoner farm and have a show for a 50-barrel producer from the Cow run sand.

In the same district A. T. Anderson & Co. have completed No. 3 on the William and Mary Cox farm and have a show for a 15-barrel pumper.

On Indian run, Harrison county, the South Penn Company has drilled its No. 14 on the Luther Haymond farm into the sand and has a show for a 30-barrel producer in the 50-foot.

In the Jarvisville district No. 4 J. A. L. Day has been completed and will make a 15-barrel pumper.

In Gilmer county, on Indian fork, the South Penn has completed No. 4 W. H. Kirkpatrick and has a 25-barrel pumper from the fifth sand.

In the Graysville development on the Ohio side, in Monroe county, the Woodsfield Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the Dougherty heirs' farm and has a 25-barrel producer from the Keener sand.

The Shawmut Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the Louis Ludwig farm and has a duster in the Maxon sand.

Near Lewisville, Monroe county, G. W. Decker has completed his No. 2 on the Henry Dill farm and has a duster in the Big Lime. The location of this failure is on a direct line between No. 1 on the same farm and W. R. Galey & Co's. No. 1 on the Fred. Spiry farm. The last named is the sensation of the field and is still pouring at the rate of 150 barrels a day. The No. 2 on the Henry Dill farm coming in a duster only goes to show the unreliable nature of the Big Lime as a producing formation. The well, however, is not a total failure since it will make a 5-barrel producer from the Big Injun sand.

On Wolf creek C. S. Cameron had drilled in his No. 5 on the R. A. Leasure farm and has a producer good for 40 barrels a day. Other producers in this district are holding up finely. Hoofstetler & Foreman's No. 25 J. P. Hoon is holding up at 75 barrels; G. C. Best's No. 4 W. E. Russell, 30 barrels, and C. S. Cameron's Nos. 3 and 4 R. A. Leasure, 100 barrels or better.

In the Lowell district the Cleveland & Marietta Oil Company has drilled in its test well on the Charles Kehl farm and has a show for a 40-barrel producer. Trapp & Co. have completed their No. 7 Lenhart and have a 4-liner.

In the Jewett district, Harrison county, F. N. Donaldson has completed and shot his No. 4 on the J. Pinkerton farm and has a very light producer.

Co. first-class in the Marietta district, Washington county, the Benedict Farm Oil Company has completed a test well on the F. Benedict farm and has a 20-barrel producer.

Local Developments.

Near Leetsdale, Beaver county, R. K. Wilson has drilled in No. 6 on the R. K. Wilson farm and has a show for a 20-barrel producer.

In the Turkey Foot field R. Sutor & Co. have completed a test well on the I. N. Young farm and have a show for a 20-barrel pumper.

In the Troutman district, Butler county, the South Penn Oil Company has put its new well on the Marland farm to pumping from the Speechley sand and has a show for a 40 or 50-barrel producer. This is the best showing that has been made in any of the wells that have been drilled down to this formation.

Foreign Bourses.

PARIS, July 30.—There was an all-round firmness at the opening of the bourse to-day, and it lasted during part of the day—the closing was calm and steady. Option day passed fairly well. It is believed the contangos are moderate. Rentes and French rails were strong, with a continuous demand. Industrials were supported, and especially Sonnovice. Rio Tintos began dull and relapsed further, owing to the decline in copper. De Beers opened higher, but this was not maintained to the close. Kaffirs started firm, became duller and closed quiet.

LONDON, July 30.—Money was in good demand to-day. Month-end requirements were largely dependent on the Bank of England. Discounts were easier. Business on the stock exchange was almost featureless, but the tone was fairly good, with an occasional reaction. Consols fluctuated. American opened irregular. The advance was fairly maintained. St. Paul benefited by the increase in receipts. The belief in the settlement of the strike in the United States Steel combination also helped. Silk was especially supported. Later prices were generally easier, closing steady. Argentines were dull. Trunks were lower. Yaquis were firmer.

BERLIN, July 30.—Prices for the bourse today were irregular and business was quiet. Chinese were strong on London advices. Canadian Pacific were a shade easier. Banks were somewhat harder. Coals and industrials reimposed. Sugar shares were particularly weak.

Wool.

BOSTON, July 30.—There was a firm tone to the wool market here this week, with values well maintained, and the general situation is hardening. There has been an absence of speculative feeling as far as the trade is concerned, but the wants of the mills are large. Territory wools continue to lead the sales. Fine unwashed delaine per staple is quoted at 46@48c, while the strictly fine grades sell at 49@50c. Fleece wools are quoted firm, but arrivals of new washed fleeces are only moderate as yet. The following are the quotations for unwashed wools: Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, X and XX and above, 26@27c; No. 1 combing, 25@26c; No. 2 and ¾-blood, 25c; coarse and braid washed, 25@26c; fine delaine, 24@25c; medium, etc., X Michigan, 24@25c; No. 1 Michigan, combing, 25@26c; No. 2 do, 24@25c; coarse and braid washed, 25c; fine delaine, 24@25c. Unwashed, medium, etc., Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, X and XX and above, 26@27c; No. 1 combing, 25@26c; No. 2 and ¾-blood, 25c; coarse and braid washed, 25@26c; fine delaine, 24@25c. FRATERNALS TO TEST LIABILITY

Failure of Odd Fellows' Endowment Raises Important Question.

MEMBERS REFUSE TO PAY ASSESSMENTS

Court Ordered Receiver to Collect Assessment on Each Death Claim and the Members Will Appeal to the Supreme Court.

Attorneys have been employed by officers of the various fraternal societies and lodges in this county to test the question of the liability of members for the payment of death claims in arrears should the society go into the hands of a receiver or a dissolution take place. Since the Odd Fellows' Endowment association has gone into the hands of a receiver there has been considerable anxiety among the members of fraternal societies in Pennsylvania with reference to this question.

This association has about $90,000 liabilities, being the amount required to pay all death claims accruing prior to the dissolution of the concern.

This amount, it is alleged, will require about 40 assessments from the surviving members. The court of common pleas No. 2 of this county made an order, recently, directing the receiver to collect one assessment on each death. Notices have been sent out and many members have refused to pay, taking steps to test the question of their liability under the circumstances.

Attorneys familiar with fraternal law state that so far as the fraternals are concerned the question has not been decided by any higher court in the state. They say that the question is of the greatest importance to all fraternities and should be decided as soon as possible, so the members may know their status. It is commonly supposed, and has been so decided in some states, that on neglect or refus

CRUCIBLE STEEL ISSUES ALSO ADVANCED

Coal Stocks Were Active and Firm. Big Demand for Brewing Common—The Preferred Was Firm. Ice Common Sold Rather Freely.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday continued quite active and the business was distributed among more securities than that of the day before, but the general tone was not so firm. The feeling in the early part was not so strong as on the day previous, and this caused a somewhat sympathetic uneasiness in Pittsburgh. The greatest activity was in the coal group, except in Pittsburgh Brewing common, which sold over 1,500 shares at the uniform price of 26, the same as Monday's close. At this figure the stock was quite firm and continued in demand, with no offers at the close under ¼ more. The preferred was in some little demand and quite firm at 45½, the last price. It is stated that there has been several thousand shares of the common changed hands privately during the last week. The preferred is more tenaciously held and the trading in it has been consequently very limited. In the coal stocks Pittsburgh common led with something over 1,300 shares, closing firm and ¼ higher at 63¾. The preferred was dull but closely unchanged at 95. After the last sale 95¼ was bid and 95¾ asked. River Coal common sold nearly 1,100 shares and was strong and ⅜ higher at 14½, closing with a good demand at 14⅝ bid, with limited offers at 14¾. The preferred did not sell and was unchanged at the close at 47½ asked. 46½ was bid at the first call.

In the steel shares the Crucible issues led in activity, the preferred selling 980 and the common 500. The latter was quite firm and advanced to 23 during the day, but closed at 22¾, a gain of ¼. Afterward it offered ⅛ lower. The preferred reached 85 and closed ⅛ lower, which was a gain of ⅜ for the day. Both closed quite firm. United States Steel stocks were somewhat easier, pending the action to be taken during the afternoon looking toward a settlement of the strike. The common sold less than 400 shares, closing at 45, with offers at that price after the last sale, which was 45⅛, and the preferred sold only 10 shares at 95¾, without further quotations. Both lost ⅛ for the day.

In the remaining sales the chief interest centered in American Window Glass common. The stock opened at 65¾, but afterwards reacted to 62⅞. After this the demand became better and the price advanced to 64¼, where it closed, the gain for the day being 1½ and a new high record. The preferred sold less than 100 shares at 96, which was a loss of ¼, but after the last sale 96¼ was bid, with no offers under 96½. Pittsburgh Plate Glass common had no sales but was strong at 173 bid, without an offer all day. At the last call there was some selling of Consolidated Ice common, 700 changing hands at 19¾@19⅝. Prior to this, call 50 shares had changed hands at 19¾. The close, 19, was a loss of ¼ for the day. Afterward 19 was bid, with no offers under 20. The preferred was not quoted. Westinghouse Electric seconds sold less than 500 shares, and closed somewhat heavy at 70, a loss of ½. There were no quotations on Westinghouse Airbrake. Switch common did not sell, but was $1 higher at 68 bid. There was a sale of 100 shares of Consolidated Traction common at 21, 68 bid. Shares of Philadelphia common did not sell, but was quoted at 49@50½. Ten shares of Monongahela National bank sold at $280 a share, which was the last price. The Trust Company stocks did not sell and were not materially changed in the quotations. Marine National bank at $113¾ bid, scored an advance of ½ and a new high record. Bonds were steady to firm, but the only sale was $6,000 of North Side Bridge 6s at 102½, the last price. There was nothing else of importance.

Following is a complete summary of the day's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices, new high records and final bids and offers:

EXCHANGES WERE LARGER.

Local Bank Clearings Show a Gain of $1,500,000 Over the Same Day Last Year.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for yesterday were more than $1,300,000 larger than for the same day a year ago. Compared with the previous Tuesday, however, they were about $1,000,000 less. SCHLEY'S ANSWER NOT MADE PUBLIC OFFICIALS WILL NOT EVEN ADMIT IT HAS BEEN RECEIVED.

Secretary of the Navy Believed to Have It in His Possession—Admiral's Counsel Given Permission to Examine Navy Department Records—Kimberley Asks to Be Excused from Serving on the Court.

(Special to the Commercial Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—Admiral Schley's reply to the program outlined by the department has been filed by his counsel, James Parker of New Jersey, a former naval officer, but Secretary Long's injunction of secrecy, issued yesterday, has sealed the lips of the department officials, and none of them will discuss the reply or even admit that it has been received. Mr. Parker will not do so until the department has taken action upon it. Admiral Schley has requested that his counsel be permitted to have access to the department files in preparing his case.

When the navy department closed at 4 o'clock this afternoon Admiral Crowninshield, acting secretary of the navy, said he had not seen the letter which Admiral Schley wrote to the secretary of the navy acknowledging receipt of the court of inquiry precept and making certain suggestions in reference thereto. Capt. Parker says the letter was mailed to Secretary Long at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. In the ordinary course of the mails the letter should have reached Secretary Long yesterday morning. The supposition at the department is that if Secretary Long received the letter he took it with him on his departure from Washington this morning without making its contents known to the officials of the department.

It is certain that the letter of Admiral Schley comments upon the fifth specification of the precept and it is believed makes certain suggestions regarding it.

Counsel Parker applied to the department for permission to examine the logs and official records in connection with the movements of the ships on the south side of Cuba, and this permission was granted. Mr. Parker was given access to these documents and was examining them today.

Rear Admiral Kimberly has asked to be excused from serving as a member of the Schley court of inquiry, giving as his reason his advanced age and physical condition. He says he is not strong enough to assume the arduous duties that will devolve upon the members of the court. Secretary Long had taken no action upon the admiral's request at the time he left the city this morning on his summer vacation, but it is thought that the admiral's wishes will be considered and that some other retired admiral will be selected.

It is possible that Secretary Long may consider the excuse invalid on the ground that the court is not to convene until September 12, when cooler weather may be expected.

Admiral Benham has accepted his designation as a member of the Schley court, and says that he will be pleased to serve.

The letter from Sampson to Schley, alleged by Capt. Thomas F. Schley, son of Rear Admiral Schley, in a Salt Lake interview, to have been suppressed by the navy department, was written May 20, 1898. In it Sampson overruled the instructions of Secretary Long, who had just cabled him to order Schley to proceed off Santiago de Cuba with his whole command, leaving one small vessel off Cienfuegos." The letter was as follows:

After duly considering this telegram, I have decided to make no change in the present plan —that is, that you should hold your squadron off Cienfuegos. If the Spanish ships have put into Santiago, they must come either to Havana or Cienfuegos to deliver the munitions of war which they are said to bring for use in Cuba. I am therefore of the opinion that our best chance of success in capturing these ships will be to hold the two points—Cienfuegos and Havana—with all the force we can muster. If later it should develop that these vessels are at Santiago we can then assemble off that port the ships best suited for the purpose and completely blockade. Until we then receive more positive information we shall continue to hold Havana and Cienfuegos.

Crowninshield Fills Long's Place.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—Secretary Long left to-day for his annual vacation, which will be spent in New England. Until the return of Assistant Secretary Hackett, Admiral Crowninshield, chief of the bureau of navigation, will be acting secretary of the navy.

HENDERSON TO BE RE-ELECTED

Congressman Sherman Expects Him to Be Retained as Speaker.

THINKS CHOICE WILL BE UNANIMOUS

Rumors of Organized Opposition Are Not Considered Reliable. Congress Will Have to Consider Government of New Possessions.

Commercial Gazette Bureau,
603 North Fifteenth Street N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.

Representative James S. Sherman of New York is in Washington and was at the treasury department to-day. Mr. Sherman was questioned concerning New York state politics, but he refused to discuss the subject. In speaking, however, of the discussion, which has prevailed for some time past concerning an organized opposition to the re-election of Speaker Henderson, Mr. Sherman said:

"I do not believe there is anything in this talk. It think, in fact, that Mr. Henderson will be re-elected speaker by acclamation. There is no opposition to him so far as I can see, and I do not think that any other name will be presented to the caucus making the nomination. That caucus will be entirely a harmonious one, I believe, and Speaker Henderson will be the unanimous choice of the Republican membership of the house represented therein."

In speaking of the prospective work of congress next winter, Mr. Sherman said:

"I believe the most important subjects of legislation will be those relating to the government of the new possessions. I think a great deal of the time of the next session will be consumed in the consideration of matters pertaining to these problems. This, of course, will involve a discussion on the tariff question, specifically as well as in a general way. Congress must sooner or later prescribe a form of government for the Philippines which shall be of a permanent nature. This may and may not be done at the forthcoming session."

Mr. Sherman declined to talk of the agitation which has been set on foot to the effect of a general reduction in the tariff rates of the country.

GAVE HIS STOMACH A MONTH'S VACATION

DOCTOR WHO FASTED 30 DAYS WILL EAT A SQUARE MEAL.

No Gruel or Soup, but Eggs, Potatoes, Vegetables and Fruit, Until His Appetite Is Satisfied—Believes With Dr. Tanner That Man's Digestive System Needs Long Rests from Time to Time.

(Special to the Commercial Gazette.)

BOSTON, MASS., July 30.—Dr. Immanuel Pfeiffer's fast of 30 days is nearly ended. To-morrow he takes his first meal, literally a breakfast. The doctor seems to be in no excitement over the event, for when asked the hour of his first repast he replied jauntily, "When the spirit moves me."

He will not baby his stomach with gruels and soups and other light food, but will surprise it with six or eight boiled eggs, half a dozen baked potatoes, a quart of milk, a quart of berries and anything in a vegetable line that strikes his fancy.

An important part of Dr. Pfeiffer's theory is that his stomach will accommodate as large a first meal as his appetite demands; that his digestive organs are in no wise harassed, but strengthened, by his month's rest. Not only does he claim that his stomach is in good condition, but that his whole body, save for the loss of weight, is just as well as it was 30 days ago. By an elaborate system of daily tests Dr. Pfeiffer has assured himself that every muscle and all his brain tissue are in as perfect condition as a month ago. He has lost weight, however, almost at the rate of a pound a day. He is now 26 pounds lighter than when he started his fast.

"But I shall never be satisfied," said he this morning, "until I have fasted 60 days without losing weight."

Dr. Pfeiffer has, of course, taken notes of his condition during the whole period of his fast, and has found that he loses where he drinks little water (and on some days he took hardly any) or whenever he exerts himself, or when the heat is excessive; but on some days, without drinking a large amount of water, he gains weight. He believes every day of his fast can be passed like those in which he gains.

He is not alone in his conviction. Only this morning he received a letter from Dr. Tanner of New York, the pioneer of fasting in this country, declaring his experience and giving in almost the same words as Dr. Pfeiffer's his theories regarding the advisability of a rest for the stomach. Dr. Tanner, with Dr. Pfeiffer, thinks a vacation does the stomach good and reacts beneficially on the whole man.

NOT THROUGH WITH CARTER

The Government Will Attempt to Recover Money Invested by Ex-Captain.

SUITS AGAINST BROTHER AND UNCLE

Valuable Property Said to Be Held by Them in Trust Until His Term Expires — Bought With Money Stolen from Uncle Sam.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The first step by the government looking to the recovery of a part of the $2,250,000 alleged to have been embezzled by Oberlin M. Carter, late captain of engineers, while supervising government work in the harbor at Savannah, Ga., was taken to-day when Marion Erwin of Georgia, special assistant attorney general of the United States, filed bills in the United States court of the southern district of New York and in the district of New Jersey, against O. M. Carter and Lorenzo D. Carter, his uncle.

Under these bills a temporary receiver was appointed for properties in New York and New Jersey. L. Stanton Carter, brother of O. M. Carter, is also made a party to the bill.

The bill seeks a decree declaring that certain property held in New York by the defendants was purchased with the funds intrusted to Capt. Carter as a disbursing officer and by him through conspiracy with the contractors fraudulently converted to his own use. The property, it is charged, is now held in the name of Carter's uncle and brother for his benefit while he is serving out his sentence in the penitentiary under conviction for the fraud.

Under the bill Judge Edward B. Thomas, presiding in the United States circuit court here, passed an order for service by publication on the non-resident defendants for appearance on September 12, 1901, and Frank W. Hubby was appointed temporary receiver for the Eighth avenue property, not disturbing the tenants therein until the non-resident parties can be heard. A similar order was made by Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, appointing Mr. Hubby temporary receiver in the New Jersey district with like powers as to the Orange, N. J., property.

An August Summertide Sale Anent Re-Organization.

To-morrow the familiar trade name that has appeared for years at the head of our store news gives way to a new caption—JOSEPH HORNE CO. Retrospectively the old name has seen many changes in the mercantile history of half a century, and in the store that honored its name no changes that were not improvements on past methods of merchandising; indeed this transposition to another firm name is in the way of betterment to a wonderfully and rapidly increasing business in a rapidly growing city.

Introductory, the new firm purposes conducting through the month of August a Re-Organization Sale, in which mere trifles, by courtesy called prices, will be asked for seasonable commodities, such as the 70 departments of this store contain.

If the new firm, at the putting off of the old and the taking on of the new, sees fit to name prices for goods, which in a mercantile sense is called giving them away, we are very sure the public, and especially that large portion of it that has dealings with this store, will feel grateful for the innovation and attest its appreciation in the substantial way of a large attendance.

In our store-news columns of this afternoon we shall lay before you the facts for the first day of the Re-Organization Sale which begins to-morrow. They will be both timely and interesting. Nothing sensational unless it be the extreme of small prices, which will really partake of that nature, for they will be lower than any named in the sale just passed.

Very Respectfully,
JOS. HORNE & CO
